West Plans New Atomic Treaty Bid

Allies Doubt Reds Will Accept Geneva Offer For Controls

GENEVA (AP) — A joint Western proposal for a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons is to be offered to the Soviet Union during the next two weeks, reliable sources reported today.

Western negotiators at the 17-nation disarmament conference doubt the Russians will show any constructive interest, but they want to present the treaty draft before the conference adjourns next month for the U.N. General Assembly.

The Western allies figure the Russians then would be left to explain their negative attitude to the General Assembly, which has been pressuring the nuclear powers for progress toward disarmament.

The Western draft would permit the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to proceed with the creation of a NATO nuclear force. But conference sources said it would require the United States and Britain to keep their nuclear weapons under the control of their own nationals and retain a total veto on their use.

Non-nuclear nations participating in the NATO force would be given some say in advance planning and would be consulted before nuclear weapons assigned to the force were used.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin already has brushed aside this limitation on the Atlantic force, terming it meaningless. He has told the conference repeatedly that the Soviet Union will sign a treaty to restrict the spread of nuclear weapons only if it explicitly outlaws the proposed Atlantic force or any other arrangement giving West Germany "direct or indirect" control over nuclear weapons.

What You've Got Coming From . . .

Medicare, Social Security

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

You are richer than you realize.

As a worker, you have in the files of Social Security headquarters an account in your name which may be worth — RIGHT NOW—more than a $123,000 estate.

For instance, if you should die and leave a growing family, your widow and children may be able to collect up to $309.20 a month in Social Security benefits.

Likewise, if you should become disabled or if you still have young children when you retire, you could collect maximum family benefits of $309.20 a month.

THIS IS equal to a three per cent annual return on a capital investment (or bank account) of $123,700.

Furthermore, this income is guaranteed. It is risk - proof. And it is tax-free.

Even if your family is grown when you retire, you and your wife may collect as much as $203.90 a month. This is equal to an annual income of 3 per cent on an investment of more than $81,500.

And your stake in Social Security is rising. In 1967, maximum family benefits will climb to $368 a month — equal to an annual income of 3 per cent from an estate worth $147,200.

But this isn't all. For something new has now been added to Social Security. Besides paying cash benefits, Social Security next year will start paying hospital bills and help take care of some other medical expenses.

THIS NEW wrinkle to Social Security is referred to as Medicare.

Government experts figure it would cost more than $18 a month to buy, on the open market, a policy duplicating the full Social Security health package — if you could find anybody who would sell you such insurance.

For persons 65 or older, Medicare will provide:

Up to 90 days of care in a hospital for a single illness, with the patient paying the first $40, plus $10 for each day after the first 60.

Up to 100 days of care in a nursing home for the same sickness, with the patient paying $5 for each day after the first 20.

Up to 100 visits a year to the patient's home, following hospitalization, by part - time nurses, phyical therapists and similar health aides.

Hospital diagnostic tests on a non-overnight basis, with the patient paying the first $20, plus one-fifth of the remainder.

Care in a psychiatric hospital will be covered under certain conditions. But nobody will be able to draw more than 190 days of such care during his lifetime or more than 90 days at one stretch.

IN GENERAL, Medicare won't pay for doctor bills, private-duty nurses or drugs prescribed outside a hospital for nusing home.

The nursing - home benefits will start Jan. 1, 1967; the others, July 1, 1966. They will be finance by higher Social Security taxes that take effect next Jan. 1.

The Social Security law has been changed also to make it possible for persons past 65 to buy special health insurance providing additional benefits after June 30, 1966.

This supplemental insurance is optional. Its cost: $6 a month for each person, with the federal government paying half of

30 Jets Fly From Guam To Hit Base

Ground Move Fails To Catch Any Reds In Area Of Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their seventh reported strike in South Viet Nam today, dropping their bombs in the northernmost raid so far announced for the jet bombers.

A U.S. spokesman said 30 of the Strategic Air Command's eight-jet bombers dropped 500 tons of bombs during a 45-minute raid on "Viet Cong installations in Quang Tin Province, approximately 350 miles north northwest of Saigon."

The raid was carried out at the request of the South Vietnamese government "against a suspected Viet Cong base near the Doxa," the spokesman said.

The Doxa is a mountainous, mist-shrouded area north of Kontum that the Viet Cong has controlled for years.

The B52s flew today from their base on Guam. Last week they made a raid southeast of Siagon from Okinawa after being moved there because of a typhoon threat to Guam.

On the ground, a big U.S. sweep southeast of Saigon ended today with meager results. The Viet Cong battalion supposed to be in the area was never found.

Three Viet Cong guerrillas were reported killed and three captured in the operation which sent nearly 2,000 American paratroopers and 1st Division artillerymen into the field last Thursday. The ground operation was preceded by the B52 bomber strike from Okinawa.

Five Americans were wounded when one of their own artillery rounds fell short.

Helicopters brought two battalions from the 173rd Airborne Brigade back to the Bien Hoa base before noon. A 1st Division battalion returned by helicopter and road convoy.

Communist guerrillas continued a flurry of attacks against outposts south of Saigon in Long An Province. In all, 26 Viet Cong actions, mostly mortar harassment, were reported in the past 48 hours.

A platoon of government troops suffered "extensive" casualties in a sharp clash at one of the outposts.

A spokesman said no conclusions were being drawn from the increase in Viet Cong activity near the capital. "Perhaps the enemy wants to test our reaction," he said.

Thirty-seven Viet Cong were reported killed in two government operations in the northern part of the country, 20 in Quang Ngai Province 330 miles northeast of Saigon and 17 in Binh Thuan Province 95 miles northeast of Saigon.

Vietnamese casualties were reported "light" in both operations.

Retroactive Payment

Social Security's Extra Check Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's an extra check in your future if you are one of the 20 million persons now receiving Social Security benefits.

That check, due to be mailed in late September, will be a retroactive payment reflecting the seven per cent increase provided under the Social Security-health care bill signed Friday by President Johnson.

The bill is retroactive to January. To figure what your check may be, let's assume you received $100 monthly January through August for an $800 total. The separate September check will be seven per cent of $800, or $56.

The first regular checks reflecting the increase will be mailed in early October covering September.

Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball mentioned the upcoming check Sunday in outlining what some people should do to receive new benefits.

Some needn't do anything.

If you are a Social Security or railroad retirement beneficiary 65 or older, you automatically will be certified for the new basic hospital insurance which goes into effect July 1, 1966.

And if you are a beneficiary interested in the voluntary supplementary plan covering physicians' fees and other benefits, you will receive automatically by mail an enrollment card in September or October. The voluntary program also is effective next July 1.

Some people, however, should check now at their nearest Social Security office, Ball said. These group include:

Persons 65 or over who are insured under Social Security but never have applied for benefits. Apply now — even if employed full time — for hospital insurance. This will assure you of getting any cash benefits you may be entitled to beginning in 1966 under more liberal retirement test provisions.

Persons 72 or over not now receiving benefits because they or their husbands hadn't worked long enough to qualify under previous provisions. You now may qualify for $35 monthly benefits with as little as three-fourths of coverage under Social Security.

Widows 60 or 61 years old. You can file application now to start getting cash benefits at 60, at a reduced amount, instead of 62. This provision becomes effective in September.

Students 18 to 22 whose Social Security benefits have stopped. Apply for benefits retroactive to January if you've been dropped from the Social Security rolls. If you are nearing 18 and plan to stay in or return to school, fill out an information form which will start benefits when you reach 18.

Severely disabled workers. You now may collect disability insurance if the disability has lasted or may last 12 months. Previous provisions stipulated that the disability had to last a long and indefinite time.

Political Stir Grows

Rep. Ford Denies He's GOP Aide President Blames For 'Untruth'

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has caused a political stir by accusing a top congressional Republican of violating his confidence and releasing "untrue and perhaps malicious" information about deliberations on the Viet Nam war.

Johnson did not name the man he had in mind but a number of newspapers implied the President's target was House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan.

Asked to comment, Ford said, in effect, that Johnson was talking through his hat if he had him in mind.

Johnson, using language that was perhaps stronger than any he has publicly aimed at a Republican since entering the White House, spoke out at a session with newsmen Sunday at the LBJ ranch.

The President was asked about published reports that he was dissuaded from calling reservists to duty at this time because of a memo from Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

On Wednesday, the President ordered 50,000 more U.S. troops to Viet Nam. The action followed a week of consultations during which there was speculation that the troop increase would be larger and reservists might be ordered to active duty.

Replying to a newsman's question regarding the Mansfield report, Johnson said: "That was the result of a man who broke my confidence, and not only broke it but distorted it. I would brand it untrue and perhaps malicious."

Johnson said the man he was talking about was "one of the prominent members of another party" who had participated in one of the White House conferences that preceded the President's Viet Nam decisions.

There was no list of Republicans attending the meetings, but Ford, Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa were known to have been on hand.

Dirksen couldn't be reached for comment.

Hickenlooper said he had no idea what the President was talking about.

Johnson said the unnamed Republican had held a background session with newsmen, meaning he gave them information but declined to be identified as the source.

"Most of the people you deal with respect the confidence, but once in a while an inexperienced man, or a new one, or a bitter partisan has to play a little politics," Johnson said.

Ford was chosen at the start of the current congressional session to serve as House Republican leader.

Asked if the incident would affect future bipartisan consultations, Johnson said, "No, I'm not going to provoke any fight."

He told newsmen Mansfield did not mention reserve forces

Three of the victims in the Columbia accident were brothers en route to church. They were James William Paul Lasley, 52; Fred Edward Lasley, 47; and Leonard Collidge Lasley, 41, all of Columbia. Also killed were Lola York Janes, 42, of rural Greensburg and Rubin Duncan, 38, of Columbia.

Eight persons died in two accidents in Maryland Sunday.

A collision at the intersection of Maryland 713 and Maryland 176 near Glen Burnie killed five and injured four. The victims were Jesse Broadway Jr., 27; Alma Coleman, 24; and Marlene Stewart, 23, all of Baltimore, and Elwood Rothrock, 26, and his wife, Betty, 25, of Hanover.

Ike Laments U.N. Apathy On Viet Nam

MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has expressed disappointment with the United Nations' position on South Viet Nam.

"I am disappointed that the United Nations has not shown the initiative to get the facts and marshal world opinion behind South Viet Nam's fight for life," he said.

Eisenhower, winding up a Wisconsin vacation Sunday, called for support of President Johnson's policies in the Viet Nam conflict.

The former president said the White House has facts not available to the public, adding:

"It is futile and difficult for the private citizen to talk about what should be done in Viet Nam. To develop opposition in times of crisis is to split the country."

Rain Brings Some Relief For Tri-State's Drought

Welcome rainfall, ranging from a third to more than an inch, drenched the district Sunday and early today, bringing partial relief from the lengthy summer drought.

Sunny weather was predicted for Tuesday, but some additional rain may be in store for the area by midweek, weather officials indicated.

The Montgomery Dam at Industry reported a total of .76 inches of rain since the storm front moved in yesterday, but the Stratton Dam listed only .37 inch.

At Beaver Falls, the rainfall amounted to 1.69 inches, authorities said.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, recorded .73 inches of rain yesterday, but added, "We need a lot more."

Copeland said rainfall during July amounted to only 1.62 inches, compared with the norm of 4.3 inches on his records.

He said the district has had only 5.7 inches of rainfall during May, June and July, the vital growing season in which more than 14 inches of precipitation usually fall.

There were 17 clear, 11 partly cloudy and three cloudy days last month for a sunshine average of 72 per cent. The normal is 65 per cent.

Temperatures last month averaged 68 degrees, well below the normal 70.5 degrees for July.

The mercury hit a high of 96 degrees on July 24 and dipped to 37 degrees on July 20, within one degree of the all - time low of 36 degrees for July.

30 Jets Fly From Guam To Hit Base

Ground Move Fails To Catch Any Reds In Area Of Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their seventh reported strike in South Viet Nam today, dropping their bombs in the northernmost raid so far announced for the jet bombers.

A U.S. spokesman said 30 of the Strategic Air Command's eight-jet bombers dropped 500 tons of bombs during a 45-minute raid on "Viet Cong installations in Quang Tin Province, approximately 350 miles north northwest of Saigon."

The raid was carried out at the request of the South Vietnamese government "against a suspected Viet Cong base near the Doxa," the spokesman said.

Retroactive Payment

Social Security's Extra Check Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's an extra check in your future if you are one of the 20 million persons now receiving Social Security benefits.

That check, due to be mailed in late September, will be a retroactive payment reflecting the seven per cent increase provided under the Social Security-health care bill signed Friday by President Johnson.

The bill is retroactive to January. To figure what your check may be, let's assume you received $100 monthly January through August for an $800 total. The separate September check will be seven per cent of $800, or $56.

The first regular checks reflecting the increase will be mailed in early October covering September.

Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball mentioned the upcoming check Sunday in outlining what some people should do to receive new benefits.

Some needn't do anything.

If you are a Social Security or railroad retirement beneficiary 65 or older, you automatically will be certified for the new basic hospital insurance which goes into effect July 1, 1966.

Widows 60 or 61 years old. You can file application now to start getting cash benefits at 60, at a reduced amount, instead of 62. This provision becomes effective in September.

Students 18 to 22 whose Social Security benefits have stopped. Apply for benefits retroactive to January if you've been dropped from the Social Security rolls. If you are nearing 18 and plan to stay in or return to school, fill out an information form which will start benefits when you reach 18.

Severely disabled workers. You now may collect disability insurance if the disability has lasted or may last 12 months. Previous provisions stipulated that the disability had to last a long and indefinite time.

They were going to church or heading home from the beach or just going for a drive — and they were among the victims of tragic multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

Two cars collided in British Columbia. Two brothers were in one car, their sister in the other. They were among eight young persons killed in the crash.

Eight persons died in two accidents in Maryland Sunday.

A collision at the intersection of Maryland 713 and Maryland 176 near Glen Burnie killed five and injured four. The victims were Jesse Broadway Jr., 27; Alma Coleman, 24; and Marlene Stewart, 23, all of Baltimore, and Elwood Rothrock, 26, and his wife, Betty, 25, of Hanover.

Ike Laments U.N. Apathy On Viet Nam

MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has expressed disappointment with the United Nations' position on South Viet Nam.

"I am disappointed that the United Nations has not shown the initiative to get the facts and marshal world opinion behind South Viet Nam's fight for life," he said.

Eisenhower, winding up a Wisconsin vacation Sunday, called for support of President Johnson's policies in the Viet Nam conflict.

The former president said the White House has facts not available to the public, adding:

"It is futile and difficult for the private citizen to talk about what should be done in Viet Nam. To develop opposition in times of crisis is to split the country."

Rain Brings Some Relief For Tri-State's Drought

Welcome rainfall, ranging from a third to more than an inch, drenched the district Sunday and early today, bringing partial relief from the lengthy summer drought.

Sunny weather was predicted for Tuesday, but some additional rain may be in store for the area by midweek, weather officials indicated.

The Montgomery Dam at Industry reported a total of .76 inches of rain since the storm front moved in yesterday, but the Stratton Dam listed only .37 inch.

At Beaver Falls, the rainfall amounted to 1.69 inches, authorities said.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, recorded .73 inches of rain yesterday, but added, "We need a lot more."

Copeland said rainfall during July amounted to only 1.62 inches, compared with the norm of 4.3 inches on his records.

He said the district has had only 5.7 inches of rainfall during May, June and July, the vital growing season in which more than 14 inches of precipitation usually fall.

There were 17 clear, 11 partly cloudy and three cloudy days last month for a sunshine average of 72 per cent. The normal is 65 per cent.

Temperatures last month averaged 68 degrees, well below the normal 70.5 degrees for July.

The mercury hit a high of 96 degrees on July 24 and dipped to 37 degrees on July 20, within one degree of the all - time low of 36 degrees for July.

Calcutta Woman Injured As Auto Goes Over Hill

Several were injured in a series of traffic accidents over the weekend reported by the Hancock County sheriff's office.

Mrs. Madeline Owens, 59, of Calcutta was listed in "fair" condition with multiple lacerations and abrasions today at City Hospital, where she was admitted Sunday following an accident on State Route 66 in the vicinity of the Globe Brick Co., Newell.

Deputies said that Mrs. Owens failed to negotiate a turn and went over an embankment. They described the car as being totally damaged in the accident, which occurred about 7:20 p.m.

A passenger, Gladys Eck of Calcutta, was examined, but found apparently uninjured.

Eileen Sobat, 21, of Midland was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the left knee and ankle early Sunday morning after she lost control of her 1956 sedan, which went over an embankment and overturned at Taylor's bend, on Route 30 near Chester.

A passenger, Patricia Cacic, also of Midland, was treated for a bruise to the hip.

Miss Sobat's vehicle was described as a total loss by investigating sheriff's deputies.

Early Sunday afternoon, a 1964 truck driven by Delbert F. Wright, 20, of Route 30, Chester, was struck by an oncoming 1964 station wagon operated by George N. Campbell, 79, of Brilliant, Ohio. The accident occurred on Kings Creek Rd.

Frank Pietranton Jr., 18, a passenger in the truck, was treated for facial lacerations at Weirton General Hospital.

Campbell was cited by deputies for driving left of center and posted $18 bond preliminary to an appearance Friday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Damage of $300 to each vehicle was estimated.

In an earlier accident on Saturday, autos driven by Ralph C. Six, 62, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 and Larry E. Taylor, 33, of Chester R. D. 1 collided on Locust Hill Rd.

Six was taken to Weirton General Hospital for treatment of back injuries and Mary Six, a passenger, for a kneecap injury. Taylor was uninjured.

Council Asked To Boost Pay Of 4 Workers

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewage departments, has asked City Council to enact legislation granting salary increases to four office employes of the two departments who were not included in a general wage increase granted city employes earlier this year.

The board also asked Council to pass legislation authorizing the board to seek bids for repair of downspouts and valleys at the water department's pump station and filtration plant and appropriate $2,000 to cover the estimated cost of the work.

In a letter to Council, W. O. Schneider, board chairman, said the board requested legislation on the wage increases some time ago, but none has been enacted. However, Council made no unfavorable comment on the request, he said.

The board unanimously passed a resolution, effective Sunday, increasing the salaries of chief clerk in the water department from $365 to $405 monthly; clerk - stenographer from $319 to $359, and the hourly pay of temporary clerk from $1.62 to $1.86.

The resolution also increases the salary of the assistant clerk-stenographer in the sewage department from $288 to $328 a month, Schneider said.

The $40 monthly increases and the hourly pay boost are the same increases granted other city employes, the board said.

The bell is the world's oldest musical instrument, according to most historians.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

Published Daily Except Sunday
By Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Established Oct. 25, 1879
Member Associated Press

Carrying The City's Banner

Saturday's Review contained these stories — among others — of special interest to East Liverpool residents: Keith B. McCutcheon, a former resident, nominated to the rank of major general in the Marine Corps by President Johnson; Clarence Wright, a present resident, named to the 15th term as president of the Ohio State Barbers Association, and the Business and Professional Women's Club awarded a first - place citation for "excellence in programming" by the National Federation of BPW Clubs during its convention in Washington, D. C.

Add the above accomplishments to the recent election of Dr. John W. Hayes of the Osteopathic Hospital here as president-elect of the American Osteopaths Association; the selection of Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff as head of the National Association of Municipal Judges, and E. L. Wheatley's re-election as president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and you can't escape the fact that East Liverpool people are doing things on a state and national level.

Those named are just a few who have been carrying the city's banner forward in a constructive manner in many fields and in many lines of endeavor. There are others equally deserving of praise, but because of the timeliness of their recognition those mentioned above have been singled out at this time.

To all — past and present — who have brought the community recognition from the "outside world," a vote of thanks. We're proud of you all. You stand as another forceful and stirring rebuttal to those who complain constantly that nothing worthwhile is being done here.

Your individual contributions fit in well with the collective efforts that mean progress.

Going Up!

A tradgedy such as that of Saturday which saw five lives snuffed out in a matter of minutes sends a county's traffic toll soaring.

Because of the deaths of the Beaver County residents in the one-car accident on Route 14, Columbiana County's fatality figure for 1965 has mounted to 25. At this time in 1964 it was only 12.

The figures tell the story. The rest is up to the individual driver.

It's A Big Universe

We detect a tendency to conclude Mars is a dead planet because no sign of life is visible from 5,000 miles straight up.

Subject to correction by anyone who has looked at Earth from 5,000 miles straight up, we don't believe anything would point to life here either from that altitude.

We have been concentrating on the "craters" conspicuously evident in the Mariner IV photographs of Mars. The universal scientists are sure these were caused when interplanetary collisions occurred.

Obviously, the scientists are guessing. They don't know.

We don't know, either. We're guessing the craters are stadiums and amphitheaters used by the inhabitants of Mars for spectator contests.

They could be mine pits dug over a period of millions of years by enterprising Martians turning a quick buck in precious ores.

They could be Shangri-la real estate developments based on the well-established principle that if you want to sell lots you must give the buyers a crack at something different, like a hole in the ground.

They could be bomb craters made by high explosives Martians use in sophisticated wars. Being smarter than Earthlings, Martians wouldn't kill one another in war. They would match bomb craters. The biggest crater would be the payoff.

There are other possibilities. But we favor the superstadiums. That's because on Mars no one works. Everybody sits around and enjoys life—watching spectator sports, matching bomb craters and reading lurid tomes about what the inhabitants, if any, of Earth do.

Earth? It's that crummy looking little plant that Martian scientists say cannot be inhabited because there's nothing on it to breathe but oxygen.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

If you want to stretch your imagination, try blaming the Internal Revenue Service's illegal invasion of privacy by use of wire taps and other devices on the same fundamental reason Communists heap fuel on the civil rights battle.

Each field provides the greatest opportunity for such action. Get it?

You are accustomed to my sophomoric mouthings, so I will go ahead and say that if every man loved his brother there would be nothing to fear from Commies in civil rights agitation and if everyone paid his taxes and revenue service wouldn't be going to the lengths it goes to in collecting taxes.

Both are enough to make your blood boil, eh Twill?

On the lighter side, it has always been a puzzle as to what finally happens to all the tapes and recordings of private phone conversations acquired illegally.

Next thing we know, there may be a sensational disclosure of a blackmarket in which such tapes are peddled to beauty shops, afternoon bridge clubs and stag and smoker parties.

It seems a shame to waste such potential entertainment recorded with such enterprise and at such risk.

Who knows? You and I might turn up on tape some time and never even know it. You sure your phone isn't bugged?

NOW THAT THERE is a new federal law banning discrimination in employment because of sex you probably are mapping strategy to apply for a job as wardrobe master of the Follies.

I started to write you about the doll who turned up at a pro football training camp in hope of landing a berth on the squad but decided you weren't ready yet to hear about it.

Just to give you a rough idea of why I didn't send it to you it went something like this: the girl thought she warranted a position on the team because she could kick like all get out, was a genius at interference, would tackle anything, had a lot of experience at running, never feared any man, was good at intercepting passes, knew all about padding a uniform and liked contact sports.

Negotiations broke down over her demand that her mother travel with her and the requirement that she disclose her age and weight.

She said she would sue for the job, and her lawyer said all the members of the team would testify on her behalf.

AS ONE WHO is never far from the soil, your heart will go out, as mine did, to the country family which obviously had a farm surplus because by the roadside in front of their house they had a penciled cardboard sign with one word on it: "Beans."

I feel sorry for Lyndon B. Johnson. He has learned what all presidents of the United States must learn—that they only announce decisions made by events and circumstances; that they have no power of personal decision.

Influence - wielders in the newspaper business should be impressed, I think, by evidence that their most avid readers are in the teen-age group whose members supposedly are too busy writhing and wrangling to read.

I refuse to believe the medical profession and its allies in the fight against Medicare represent all physicians, but I am puzzled by the silence of the dissenters. Why don't they speak up?

One of the things I am looking forward to on my vacation is seeing ladies in the new all-out bathing suits, because I have not been near the water since darling daughters dressed as if starting on a polar expedition.

Though I do desk work with my sleeves rolled up and minus a coat, I never have owned a short-sleeved shirt and would feel uncomfortable without wadded, rolled-up shirt cuffs around my arms.

From time to time I see the four solid houses in which I lived at various times when I was a child. They look pretty much as they did then, and it makes me wonder what houses now costing six times as much will look like when they are as old. Many of them will have been ordered torn down as menaces.

Progressive education is on the way back, in connection with government efforts to teach people how to break out of poverty. I do not find this disturbing because I believe educable kids can get educated under any system and vice versa.

Mario Savio, who stirred up the fuss at University of California's Berkeley campus, has gone to jail for 120 days and the university has shaken up its Berkeley operation in line with his "recommendations." The law has been satisfied by Savio's sentence and the university has profited by his transgressions.

Mayors attending the annual congress of the National League of Cities in Detroit learned that cities are losing their identities. At the same time, it seems to me, they are widening their identities. Thus, people say they live in the Chicago area, or the Los Angeles area, because the cities they live in have names that are unknown.

What my country needs, along with that good five - cent cigar it never got, is a definition of Communism, because people who talk about the necessity of destroying it wherever it shows up cannot agree on what it is.

Crime Stresses Arms Control Need

By RAYMOND MOLEY

On July 26 J. Edgar Hoover released a document which should arouse more concern for our national welfare than all the preachments about moral decline in our beloved country that we have heard in years. It's "Uniform Crime Reports for the United States - 1964," a statistical compilation gathered from law enforcement agencies by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

This annual measurement of crimes committed in America was instituted more than 30 years ago with funds supplied by the Rockefeller Foundation and with the plans of major experts in the field of law enforcement.

THE REPORT for 1964 shows that crimes of violence took a big jump over 1963 — 15 per cent. Aggravated assault increased 17 per cent; forcible rape, 21 per cent; robbery, 12 per cent. That inevitable accomplice in most such crimes, automobile theft, went up 16 per cent. Murder increased 8 per cent.

But that is not the most shocking part of the story. The greatest crime increase was in the teen-age part of our population —37 per cent of the serious crimes solved by the police were committed by persons under 18 years of age. The age group 10-17 years inclusive comprised only 15 per cent of the population in 1964. But they committed 43 per cent of the property crimes.

The increase in criminality cannot all be blamed on the conditions of city life. Crime in the suburbs was up 13 per cent; in the cities, 11 per cent. And even rural areas contributed a 9 per cent rise.

The police have paid in blood in this crime - ridden country. There were 88 law enforcement officers killed in 1964, and 57 of them were murdered by vicious criminals. In the period 1960-64 there were 225 officers killed by criminal action.

NOW LEAVING aside the obvious responsibility of the churches and schools to labor against lawlessness, and leaving aside the sociologists' claim that "environment" is to blame, let us see what the federal government should do.

Firearms were used in 96 per cent of killings of police, with hand guns predominating. Altogether, guns were used in 5,090 killings, in 27,700 serious assaults and 63,700 armed robberies.

Although Hoover has long been calling for federal restriction on the interstate sale of arms and for local control of intrastate merchandising of deadly weapons, the subject came to national prominence with the assassination of President Kennedy.

On March 8 President Johnson sent a message to Congress urging legislation to restrict and control the sale of firearms in interstate commerce. That followed more than two years of work by Sen. Thomas Dodd of Connecticut to focus attention on the ease with which the tools used in crime are distributed and sold.

Dodd is chairman of a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee concerned with juvenile delinquency. His original bill, through a number of regulations, sought to prevent the acquisition of deadly weapons, such as that bought and used by Oswald in the assassination of President Kennedy.

THE PRESIDENT'S proposals were less sweeping. He asked for legislation to prohibit interstate shipment of arms except under license by the secretary of the treasury, to curb imports of surplus military weapons, to place stricter curbs on gun sales by retail dealers and to raise licensing fees. Dodd then introduced a bill carrying out the President's proposals.

This legislation, with some changes, is now before the Dodd subcommittee, and innumerable witnesses for and against it have been heard. Dodd has said that the lobby against his legislation is "one of the most formidable in legislative history."

Prominent in this lobby is something called the National Rifle Association. The opponents of the legislation are troubled (they say) by the constitutional guarantee of the "right to bear arms." In reality they are anxious lest "innocent amusements" such as hunting and rifle practice be interfered with.

EVEN ORDINARILY sound and conscientious senators have objected, largely because their states want to encourage hunting. But the arguments against strict regulation disregard not only the national interest and safety but the fact that killing this legislation would contribute to hoodlumism and criminality.

Thus, the selfish and the softheaded ally themselves with the vicious killers and enemies of society. This unfinished business before Congress is a critical necessity if our government is to move vigorously to curb the jungle war at home.

August Marks Key Dates In Nuclear Era

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

So long as man is alive on earth he can never forget two things that came, years apart, in the first week in August: A note and a flash.

Ever since he has known that if he is stupid enough there will be another flash some time, not to see by but to die by.

It was 26 years ago today — Aug. 2, 1939 — that the world's most famous scientist, Albert Einstein, wrote a note to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, saying: It might be possible to make an atomic bomb.

Then the kindly Einstein, a pacifist, added a frightening note. He said the Nazis were already at work on the project. Roosevelt's response: "This requires action." It took six years to make the bomb.

Twenty years ago this week — Aug. 6, 1945 — a B29 superfortress flew over the Japanese city of Hiroshima at 9:15 a.m. and dropped a bomb called "The Lean Boy." The city went up in flash and smoke.

President Harry S. Truman got the word that day coming back from the Potsdam Conference on the heavy cruiser Augusta and he told a group of sailors around him: "This is the greatest thing in history."

The Japanese bumbled about surrender and on Aug. 9, 1945, another bomb, this one called "The Fat Boy," was dropped on Nagasaki. The world has never been the same since.

NEARLY 80,000 people were killed in Hiroshima, 35,000 in Nagasaki. Over 70,000 were injured in both cities, thousands were doomed to lingering, agonizing illness. Other thousands were missing.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, said "this incredible, destructive instrument remains a temptation for posterity." And it has been ever since.

The United Nations, quickly realizing what the world was up against, in January 1946 created its Atomic Energy Commission to find some way to control what had been let loose.

Six months later, on June 14, 1946, Bernard M. Baruch, U.S. representative to the commission, told it: "My fellow citizens of the world. We are here to make a choice between the quick and the dead. If we fail, then we have damned every man to be a slave of fear."

The commission failed. The United States proposed an international commission to control atomic energy with unrestricted right to inspect all nations to prevent cheating. The Russians wanted an international agreement to abandon atomic warfare, but without inspection. The race was on.

On Sept. 23, 1949, Truman announced Russia's first atomic blast. To keep ahead, the United States went farther and on Nov. 1, 1952, exploded its first hydrogen device. Russia caught up with this on Aug. 21, 1953.

BOTH SIDES WERE busy, busy to deliver the bomb. They developed intercontinental ballistic missiles, of which the United States has more than 750. While Russia may have fewer, it has enough to lay the United States in ruins if they reached their targets.

Both went farther and endangered the world by testing in the atmosphere. They finally agreed to cut that out in 1963 and just test underground. Both have devices to be sure there's no cheating on that.

But the worst nightmare is the spread of nuclear weapons; other nations can develop them and some already have. Five big powers are in the nuclear club now: United States, Russia, Britain, France, Red China.

Others, like India, are unlikely to sit by indefinitely without the bombs for this would leave them at the mercy of their neighbors. Unless there's a stop to the spread, the world may become a furnace.

For years there have been disarmament conferences. Another one began last week with the United States and Russia the main characters. But no one really expects any progress or agreement.

Today, 26 years after Einstein wrote his note, the world doesn't know whether it's going to wind up looking like roast chicken.

Time On Their Hands

By Edwin Q. White

SAIGON

The massive U.S. military buildup now going on in South Viet Nam will soon total 125,000 Americans.

While this goes on, there is a contradictory sameness about the war.

The Viet Cong continues to strike, to punish government troops and then to fade away into the jungles, mountains and swamps. Outposts are overrun just outside Saigon. Roads are cut. Giant search operations move out to look for the Viet Cong and often end with no trace of the guerrillas.

THE RAPID buildup by the United States in recent months seems to have been designed as an emergency stop-gap.

With about 80,000 American military men in the country, this action appears to have been successful. It has provided the force necessary to keep the Communists from mounting major offensives and taking over key towns or cities.

There were fears a few months ago that the Viet Cong was ready for a drive that if successful might demolish the last will of the Vietnamese government to continue the fight. Now the feeling is that this danger has been blunted by the pouring in of American military might.

The result has been a stalemate. The Viet Cong has been denied quick victory, but there still is no discernible plan that could bring victory for the Saigon government.

THE QUESTION of what the United States is doing here thus brings the same answer that it has brought since 1960. It is trying to help Viet Nam win its war, but now it is doing it in a different way with a big buildup.

There is general agreement that it was necessary to adopt this different role, but many believe it cannot provide a final solution.

Highest U.S. officials say repeatedly that this is a Vietnamese war and that it must be won by the Vietnamese themselves in gaining the support of their own people. They do not believe that the massing of U.S. troops provides the answer to the propaganda efforts and subversion of the Communists.

The factors that appear to make the Vietnamese themselves unable to subdue their foe involve years of foreign domination, war, dictatorship and political turmoil.

WHILE IT is impossible to make a comparison between the Vietnamese war effort and that of the United States, the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has talked tough and determined. It has taken some stern steps, but it also is accused of ignoring some basics of economy and planning.

It is believed that structural changes in command will soon be instituted by the United States. This may include a new headquarters to take over operational control of American ground combat troops in the 2nd and 3rd Corps areas in the heart of the country.

It also is believed that the 1st Corps area bordering North Vietnam will come under operational control of the U. S. Marine command.

These moves would not involve any change in the current command structure in relation to the Vietnamese armed forces. There still would be no joint command, but they would be intended to result in more effective operations against the Viet Cong.

High American officials are known to believe that the Viet Cong still have never fully committed the force that they have been building up. The force includes the North Vietnamese regulars that are said to have been confirmed as being in South Viet Nam.

Many military men say they hope these forces will be committed in a stand up and fight campaign. They feel the Americans in support of Vietnamese forces could deal the Communists a blow from which they could not recover.

While this might prove true, there is no evidence that the Communists feel it is necessary to force an immediate showdown.

They want to win — dramatically and quickly if possible — but they have never been accused of being foolhardy. They believe time is on their side and they still give every sign of being willing to wait.

Today In History

Today is Monday, Aug. 2, the 214th day of 1965. There are 151 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Hatch Act, designed to limit spending in national political campaigns and restrict political activity by federal employes.

On this date

In 1610, English navigator Henry Hudson entered what now is Canada's Hudson Bay.

In 1906, Anthony Comstock raided the Art Students' League in New York — the first spectacular outbreak of a lifetime campaign for his own rigid concepts of morality.

In 1914, German forces invaded Luxembourg.

In 1923, President Warren Harding died of apoplexy in San Francisco on his return journey from Alaska.

In 1945, an armada of 800 U.S. superfortresses bombed a wide range of targets in Japan.

Ten years ago — President Tito of Yugoslavia announced his willingness to resume relations with the Soviet Communist party.

Five years ago — U.S. member states received a Moscow proposal that their chiefs of state meet at the General Assembly session in September to discuss disarmament.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—The scientific care of the Dionne quintuplets was praised by Dr. A. L. Turner, past president of City Hospital medical staff, on his return from a month's vacation in Canada, during which he visited the famous babies.

Mrs. Joseph Hughes, wife of the field major in charge of the local citadel, was awarded the "long service star" for 45 years' work as a Salvation Army officer.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—William E. Richardson of Cain St. was promoted to sergeant "somewhere in the Philippines."

The police department's two radio cruisers covered 6,590 miles in July.

TEN YEARS AGO — James A. Barker of Smithfield St. was promoted to electrician's mate second class while serving aboard the Fred T. Berry, a destroyer escort.

Zoe Rawlings won the "most original" award during a style show at the 17th St. playground in Wellsville.

New officers of Wellsville Council 507, Knights of Columbus, headed by George Prokop, grand knight, were installed by John Cataldo, district deputy.

Carrying The City's Banner

Saturday's Review contained these stories — among others — of special interest to East Liverpool residents: Keith B. McCutcheon, a former resident, nominated to the rank of major general in the Marine Corps by President Johnson; Clarence Wright, a present resident, named to the 15th term as president of the Ohio State Barbers Association, and the Business and Professional Women's Club awarded a first - place citation for "excellence in programming" by the National Federation of BPW Clubs during its convention in Washington, D. C.

Add the above accomplishments to the recent election of Dr. John W. Hayes of the Osteopathic Hospital here as president-elect of the American Osteopaths Association; the selection of Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff as head of the National Association of Municipal Judges, and E. L. Wheatley's re-election as president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and you can't escape the fact that East Liverpool people are doing things on a state and national level.

Those named are just a few who have been carrying the city's banner forward in a constructive manner in many fields and in many lines of endeavor. There are others equally deserving of praise, but because of the timeliness of their recognition those mentioned above have been singled out at this time.

To all — past and present — who have brought the community recognition from the "outside world," a vote of thanks. We're proud of you all. You stand as another forceful and stirring rebuttal to those who complain constantly that nothing worthwhile is being done here.

Your individual contributions fit in well with the collective efforts that mean progress.

Going Up!

A tradgedy such as that of Saturday which saw five lives snuffed out in a matter of minutes sends a county's traffic toll soaring.

Because of the deaths of the Beaver County residents in the one-car accident on Route 14, Columbiana County's fatality figure for 1965 has mounted to 25. At this time in 1964 it was only 12.

The figures tell the story. The rest is up to the individual driver.

It's A Big Universe

We detect a tendency to conclude Mars is a dead planet because no sign of life is visible from 5,000 miles straight up.

Subject to correction by anyone who has looked at Earth from 5,000 miles straight up, we don't believe anything would point to life here either from that altitude.

We have been concentrating on the "craters" conspicuously evident in the Mariner IV photographs of Mars. The universal scientists are sure these were caused when interplanetary collisions occurred.

Obviously, the scientists are guessing. They don't know.

We don't know, either. We're guessing the craters are stadiums and amphitheaters used by the inhabitants of Mars for spectator contests.

They could be mine pits dug over a period of millions of years by enterprising Martians turning a quick buck in precious ores.

They could be Shangri-la real estate developments based on the well-established principle that if you want to sell lots you must give the buyers a crack at something different, like a hole in the ground.

They could be bomb craters made by high explosives Martians use in sophisticated wars. Being smarter than Earthlings, Martians wouldn't kill one another in war. They would match bomb craters. The biggest crater would be the payoff.

There are other possibilities. But we favor the superstadiums. That's because on Mars no one works. Everybody sits around and enjoys life—watching spectator sports, matching bomb craters and reading lurid tomes about what the inhabitants, if any, of Earth do.

Earth? It's that crummy looking little plant that Martian scientists say cannot be inhabited because there's nothing on it to breathe but oxygen.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

If you want to stretch your imagination, try blaming the Internal Revenue Service's illegal invasion of privacy by use of wire taps and other devices on the same fundamental reason Communists heap fuel on the civil rights battle.

Each field provides the greatest opportunity for such action. Get it?

You are accustomed to my sophomoric mouthings, so I will go ahead and say that if every man loved his brother there would be nothing to fear from Commies in civil rights agitation and if everyone paid his taxes and revenue service wouldn't be going to the lengths it goes to in collecting taxes.

Both are enough to make your blood boil, eh Twill?

On the lighter side, it has always been a puzzle as to what finally happens to all the tapes and recordings of private phone conversations acquired illegally.

Next thing we know, there may be a sensational disclosure of a blackmarket in which such tapes are peddled to beauty shops, afternoon bridge clubs and stag and smoker parties.

It seems a shame to waste such potential entertainment recorded with such enterprise and at such risk.

Who knows? You and I might turn up on tape some time and never even know it. You sure your phone isn't bugged?

NOW THAT THERE is a new federal law banning discrimination in employment because of sex you probably are mapping strategy to apply for a job as wardrobe master of the Follies.

Both went farther and endangered the world by testing in the atmosphere. They finally agreed to cut that out in 1963 and just test underground. Both have devices to be sure there's no cheating on that.

But the worst nightmare is the spread of nuclear weapons; other nations can develop them and some already have. Five big powers are in the nuclear club now: United States, Russia, Britain, France, Red China.

Others, like India, are unlikely to sit by indefinitely without the bombs for this would leave them at the mercy of their neighbors. Unless there's a stop to the spread, the world may become a furnace.

For years there have been disarmament conferences. Another one began last week with the United States and Russia the main characters. But no one really expects any progress or agreement.

Today, 26 years after Einstein wrote his note, the world doesn't know whether it's going to wind up looking like roast chicken.

Time On Their Hands

By Edwin Q. White

SAIGON

The massive U.S. military buildup now going on in South Viet Nam will soon total 125,000 Americans.

While this goes on, there is a contradictory sameness about the war.

The Viet Cong continues to strike, to punish government troops and then to fade away into the jungles, mountains and swamps. Outposts are overrun just outside Saigon. Roads are cut. Giant search operations move out to look for the Viet Cong and often end with no trace of the guerrillas.

THE RAPID buildup by the United States in recent months seems to have been designed as an emergency stop-gap.

With about 80,000 American military men in the country, this action appears to have been successful. It has provided the force necessary to keep the Communists from mounting major offensives and taking over key towns or cities.

There were fears a few months ago that the Viet Cong was ready for a drive that if successful might demolish the last will of the Vietnamese government to continue the fight. Now the feeling is that this danger has been blunted by the pouring in of American military might.

The result has been a stalemate. The Viet Cong has been denied quick victory, but there still is no discernible plan that could bring victory for the Saigon government.

THE QUESTION of what the United States is doing here thus brings the same answer that it has brought since 1960. It is trying to help Viet Nam win its war, but now it is doing it in a different way with a big buildup.

There is general agreement that it was necessary to adopt this different role, but many believe it cannot provide a final solution.

Highest U.S. officials say repeatedly that this is a Vietnamese war and that it must be won by the Vietnamese themselves in gaining the support of their own people. They do not believe that the massing of U.S. troops provides the answer to the propaganda efforts and subversion of the Communists.

The factors that appear to make the Vietnamese themselves unable to subdue their foe involve years of foreign domination, war, dictatorship and political turmoil.

WHILE IT is impossible to make a comparison between the Vietnamese war effort and that of the United States, the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has talked tough and determined. It has taken some stern steps, but it also is accused of ignoring some basics of economy and planning.

It is believed that structural changes in command will soon be instituted by the United States. This may include a new headquarters to take over operational control of American ground combat troops in the 2nd and 3rd Corps areas in the heart of the country.

It also is believed that the 1st Corps area bordering North Vietnam will come under operational control of the U. S. Marine command.

These moves would not involve any change in the current command structure in relation to the Vietnamese armed forces. There still would be no joint command, but they would be intended to result in more effective operations against the Viet Cong.

High American officials are known to believe that the Viet Cong still have never fully committed the force that they have been building up. The force includes the North Vietnamese regulars that are said to have been confirmed as being in South Viet Nam.

Many military men say they hope these forces will be committed in a stand up and fight campaign. They feel the Americans in support of Vietnamese forces could deal the Communists a blow from which they could not recover.

While this might prove true, there is no evidence that the Communists feel it is necessary to force an immediate showdown.

They want to win — dramatically and quickly if possible — but they have never been accused of being foolhardy. They believe time is on their side and they still give every sign of being willing to wait.

Congress Plans To Give Johnson Vote Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress expects to send to President Johnson this week the voting rights bill he urgently requested last March.

And the controversy over state legislative reapportionment that erupted after the one-man, one-vote ruling by the Supreme Court may reach a showdown in the Senate.

Also in the Senate, the Judiciary Committee has set a hearing for Thursday on Johnson's nomination of his friend and adviser, Abe Fortas, to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg on the Supreme Court.

The House Judiciary Committee is expected to act Tuesday on an administration bill to abolish the national origins quota system of immigration.

And with congressional hopes still pinned on adjournment around Labor Day, the Senate Labor Committee may complete work on a House-passed bill to double the funds available for the second year of the antipoverty program.

The voting-rights bill was whipped into final form by a Senate-House conference committee last Thursday and will be taken up in the House Tuesday.

Senate action may follow later in the day, although Southern foes could throw up a temporary roadblock if they renew their denunciations of it as an unconstitutional invasion of the rights of the states to determine the qualification of voters.

The bill is designed to enforce the 15th Amendment's ban on denial of voting rights because of race or color. In the states affected by the measure's automatic coverage formula, literacy tests and similar voter qualification requirements would be suspended.

The reapportionment battle centers on a constitutional amendment proposed by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to get around the Supreme Court's decision that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population.

Dirksen's amendment would permit geography and political sub-divisions to be taken into account, in addition to population, in apportioning one house if the people approved in a referendum.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Dirksen announced last week that at today's session they would seek an agreement for a showdown vote Wednesday.

Secreary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plans to go before the Senate Appropriations and Armed Services Committees Wednesday to report on additional funds that will be asked for expanded military operations in Viet Nam.

Congressional action was completed last week on the bill boosting Social Security benefits and establishing a health-care program for the elderly and also on a $7.5-billion housing bill that includes rent subsidies for low-income families.

Highway Patrol Reports Seven Area Auto Mishaps

A city woman was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in an auto accident Sunday morning at 10:15 on Park Way, three-tenths of a mile north of the city limits.

This was one of seven area accidents investigated over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mrs. Edna Browne, 44, of 1176 Harker Ave. suffered contusions of the nose and face and possible chest injuries when the car she was driving rammed into an embankment.

—:—

OFFICERS SAID Mrs. Browne failed to negotiate a curve, went off the right side of the highway and then veered diagonally into the embankment. Moderate damage resulted to the front of the 1959 coach she was operating.

A Wellsville youth and a passenger were hurt in an accident Saturday night at 10:30 on Township Rd. 1005, four-tenths of a mile west of Route 39.

Jerry Thomas Westlake, 17, son of Howard Westlake, 1702 Commerce St., Wellsville, was the driver. Officers said he lost control of the vehicle and went off the highway, striking a tree. He was westbound. There was loose gravel on the roadway, officers reported.

Westlake was treated at the hospital for lacerations of the nose and forehead and abrasions of the left hand. A passenger, Candy Pastore, daughter of James Pastore of Salineville R.D. 3, was treated for bruises and abrasions of the left cheek.

Donna L. Payne, 19, of 905 W. 8th St. was cited for speed in excess of road and weather conditions after her car hit a telephone pole at the intersection of Pigeon Rd. and Rt. 45, a half-mile south of Salem Sunday about midnight.

Officers reported she was eastbound when she ran through a stop sign at the intersection and hit the pole on the opposite side of the highway. She suffered a laceration of the left knee. A passenger, Carolyn Stowers, 20, of 213 E. 4th St. escaped injury.

A CAR driven by William Ralph Simms, 19, of 2124 Ohio Ave. was struck in the side by another operated by Clarence Hedge, 20, of Beaver Falls Sunday at 10:20 p.m. on Route 267, almost a mile and a half north of East Liverpool. Hedge pulled from a driveway and hit the southbound Simms car, officers reported.

A station wagon operated by Wilford H. Sheddy, 51, of Youngstown hit a car operated by Frank Friend Jr., 35, of Cleveland Sunday at 8:25 p.m. at the junction of Routes 7 and 30. Sheddy pulled from Route 7 onto Route 30, striking the Friend car. Sheddy was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Donald Eugene Beadnell, 19, of Salineville R.D. 1 was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a car driven by him struck the rear of another operated by John F. Andress, 46, of Alliance Saturday afternoon at 2 at the junction of Routes 39 and 164, east of Salineville. Andress was southbound on Route 164.

Lawrence Lingo, 22, of Newton Falls also was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his car hit the rear of another operated by Sarino A. Perri, 21, of 619 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, Saturday at 2:40 p.m. on Route 45, almost two miles north of Lisbon. Perri had slowed for another car ahead, officers reported.

Officers Seek Slayer Of Young College Girl

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — University of North Carolina coeds walked in pairs and stayed out of wooded areas today as police sought the killer who stabbed a young college girl to death in UNC's botanical garden after reportedly trying to rape her.

Dean of Women Kathrine Carmichael directed coeds to travel on the campus in twos and stay clear of the Arboretum, a 5½-acre garden where Suellen Evans, 21, Mooresville was stabbed in the heart and neck last Friday.

Miss Evans collapsed after telling a girl who responded to her screams for help: "He tried to rape me."

Drivers Fined In Court Here

Two motorists were fined today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who ordered bench warrants issued for another city driver who failed to appear on two charges. Three other drivers forfeited bonds.

Norman W. Stillwell of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $50 and costs on a reckless driving charge.

"The police officer did you a big favor; you might have been involved in an accident," the judge told the Rogers motorist, who was headed home when cited on Dresden Ave. at 12:53 a. m. Saturday.

Thomas C. Elliott, 615 Broadway, Wellsville, drew a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Friday night on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

Bench warrants were ordered for the arrest of Eugene Clinton Hughes, 133 E. 3rd St., after he failed to appear for hearings on charges of operating a motor vehicle without filing application for registration and driving an unsafe vehicle.

Hughes was cited last Wednesday by the State Highway Patrol at the intersection of Routes 30 and 170 after being issued a warning July 4 to repair some defects.

Forfeiting $27.50 bonds were David Lee Eaton of R. D. 2 and Robert Bell of Connellsville, Pa.

Eaton was cited at 1:15 a. m. Saturday in a radar check on Dresden Ave. for traveling 48 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. Bell was cited Wednesday in a radar check on W. 8th St. for the same speed in a 35-mile zone.

Walter N. Houser of Blairsville, Pa., forfeited $17.50 after being cited Friday night for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the freeway.

Chester Hearing Set As Car Leaves Street

Patricia A. McCoy, 16, of 2nd Ave., New Cumberland, was reportedly uninjured following an accident Saturday night in which she lost control of the 1965 auto she was driving.

Chester police said the auto veered from Indiana Ave. between 3rd and 4th St. into yards adjacent to two homes.

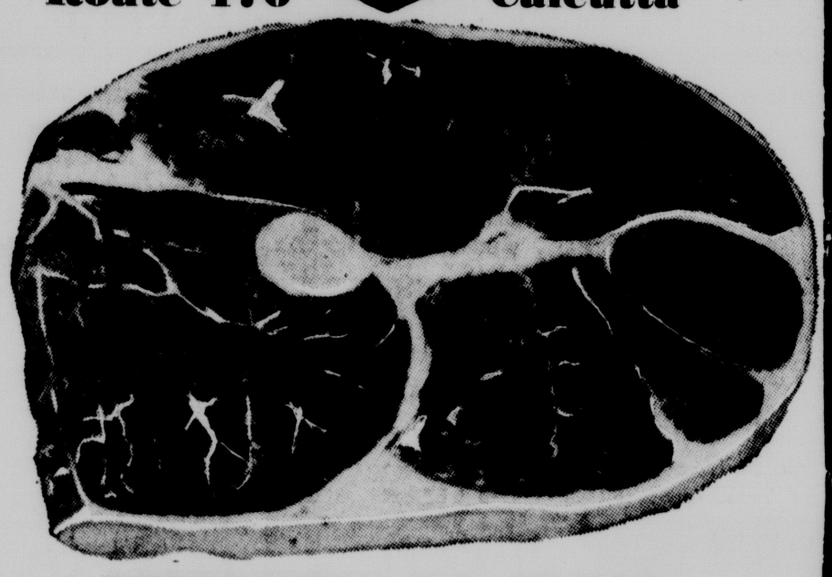

Nancy Cline of Pughtown was a passenger.

Kenneth Williams, investigating patrolman, estimated $600 damage to the car.

Miss McCoy is due to appear before Mayor Harry Abrams Friday at 7:30 p. m. on a charge of failing to have her vehicle under control.

Berlin's coming season of opera and theater will feature 25 productions in 14 houses.

Highway Patrol Reports Seven Area Auto Mishaps

A city woman was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in an auto accident Sunday morning at 10:15 on Park Way, three-tenths of a mile north of the city limits.

This was one of seven area accidents investigated over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mrs. Edna Browne, 44, of 1176 Harker Ave. suffered contusions of the nose and face and possible chest injuries when the car she was driving rammed into an embankment.

—:—

OFFICERS SAID Mrs. Browne failed to negotiate a curve, went off the right side of the highway and then veered diagonally into the embankment. Moderate damage resulted to the front of the 1959 coach she was operating.

A Wellsville youth and a passenger were hurt in an accident Saturday night at 10:30 on Township Rd. 1005, four-tenths of a mile west of Route 39.

Jerry Thomas Westlake, 17, son of Howard Westlake, 1702 Commerce St., Wellsville, was the driver. Officers said he lost control of the vehicle and went off the highway, striking a tree. He was westbound. There was loose gravel on the roadway, officers reported.

Westlake was treated at the hospital for lacerations of the nose and forehead and abrasions of the left hand. A passenger, Candy Pastore, daughter of James Pastore of Salineville R.D. 3, was treated for bruises and abrasions of the left cheek.

Donna L. Payne, 19, of 905 W. 8th St. was cited for speed in excess of road and weather conditions after her car hit a telephone pole at the intersection of Pigeon Rd. and Rt. 45, a half-mile south of Salem Sunday about midnight.

Officers reported she was eastbound when she ran through a stop sign at the intersection and hit the pole on the opposite side of the highway. She suffered a laceration of the left knee. A passenger, Carolyn Stowers, 20, of 213 E. 4th St. escaped injury.

A CAR driven by William Ralph Simms, 19, of 2124 Ohio Ave. was struck in the side by another operated by Clarence Hedge, 20, of Beaver Falls Sunday at 10:20 p.m. on Route 267, almost a mile and a half north of East Liverpool. Hedge pulled from a driveway and hit the southbound Simms car, officers reported.

A station wagon operated by Wilford H. Sheddy, 51, of Youngstown hit a car operated by Frank Friend Jr., 35, of Cleveland Sunday at 8:25 p.m. at the junction of Routes 7 and 30. Sheddy pulled from Route 7 onto Route 30, striking the Friend car. Sheddy was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Donald Eugene Beadnell, 19, of Salineville R.D. 1 was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a car driven by him struck the rear of another operated by John F. Andress, 46, of Alliance Saturday afternoon at 2 at the junction of Routes 39 and 164, east of Salineville. Andress was southbound on Route 164.

Lawrence Lingo, 22, of Newton Falls also was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his car hit the rear of another operated by Sarino A. Perri, 21, of 619 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, Saturday at 2:40 p.m. on Route 45, almost two miles north of Lisbon. Perri had slowed for another car ahead, officers reported.

Officers Seek Slayer Of Young College Girl

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — University of North Carolina coeds walked in pairs and stayed out of wooded areas today as police sought the killer who stabbed a young college girl to death in UNC's botanical garden after reportedly trying to rape her.

Dean of Women Kathrine Carmichael directed coeds to travel on the campus in twos and stay clear of the Arboretum, a 5½-acre garden where Suellen Evans, 21, Mooresville was stabbed in the heart and neck last Friday.

Miss Evans collapsed after telling a girl who responded to her screams for help: "He tried to rape me."

Drivers Fined In Court Here

Two motorists were fined today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who ordered bench warrants issued for another city driver who failed to appear on two charges. Three other drivers forfeited bonds.

Norman W. Stillwell of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $50 and costs on a reckless driving charge.

"The police officer did you a big favor; you might have been involved in an accident," the judge told the Rogers motorist, who was headed home when cited on Dresden Ave. at 12:53 a. m. Saturday.

Thomas C. Elliott, 615 Broadway, Wellsville, drew a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Friday night on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

Bench warrants were ordered for the arrest of Eugene Clinton Hughes, 133 E. 3rd St., after he failed to appear for hearings on charges of operating a motor vehicle without filing application for registration and driving an unsafe vehicle.

Hughes was cited last Wednesday by the State Highway Patrol at the intersection of Routes 30 and 170 after being issued a warning July 4 to repair some defects.

Forfeiting $27.50 bonds were David Lee Eaton of R. D. 2 and Robert Bell of Connellsville, Pa.

Eaton was cited at 1:15 a. m. Saturday in a radar check on Dresden Ave. for traveling 48 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. Bell was cited Wednesday in a radar check on W. 8th St. for the same speed in a 35-mile zone.

Walter N. Houser of Blairsville, Pa., forfeited $17.50 after being cited Friday night for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the freeway.

Chester Hearing Set As Car Leaves Street

Patricia A. McCoy, 16, of 2nd Ave., New Cumberland, was reportedly uninjured following an accident Saturday night in which she lost control of the 1965 auto she was driving.

Chester police said the auto veered from Indiana Ave. between 3rd and 4th St. into yards adjacent to two homes.

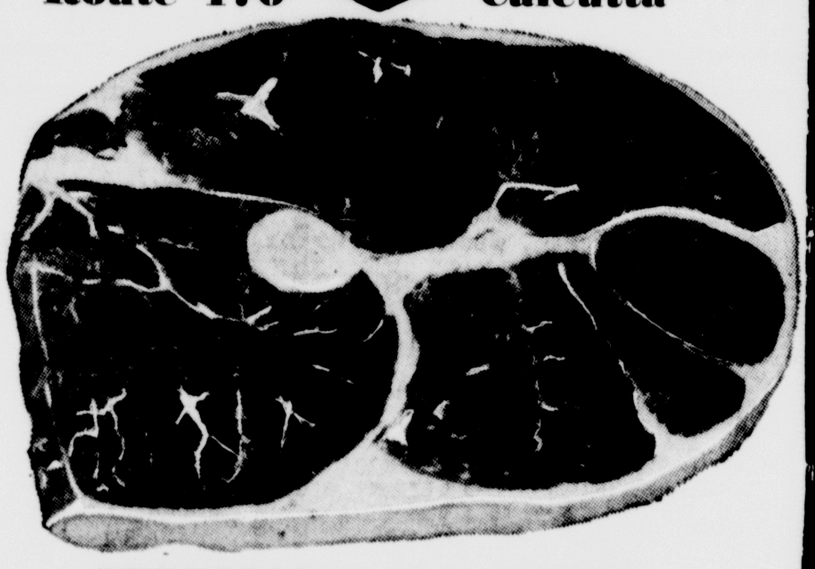

Nancy Cline of Pughtown was a passenger.

Kenneth Williams, investigating patrolman, estimated $600 damage to the car.

Miss McCoy is due to appear before Mayor Harry Abrams Friday at 7:30 p. m. on a charge of failing to have her vehicle under control.

Berlin's coming season of opera and theater will feature 25 productions in 14 houses.

What You Have Coming In Medicare And Security

the premium out of the regular U.S. Treasury. For those who choose to buy it, the supplemental insurance will help cover:

Doctor bills, in or out of a hospital.

Dentist bills for surgery on the jaw or other facial bones required by accident or disease.

Visits by part - time nurses and other health peronnel to a patient's home under conditions not covered by the basic Medicare plan.

Up to $250 worth of psychiatric care a year outside a hospital.

Various other health benefits not provided by Medicare, including diagnostic tests outside a hospital, ambulance service, artificial limbs, and rental of medical equipment (such as a wheelchair).

—:—

WITH supplemental insurance, the subscriber will have to pay the first $50 of his medical expenses each year and one-fifth of the rest. The insurance will cover the balance.

In addition, the Social Security law contains special provisions concerning free health benefits for persons who aren't drawing welfare checks but are too poor to pay their medical bills.

This is known as the Kerr-Mills program. A state may—but doesn't have to — set up its own Kerr-Mills program, with the federal government supplying most of the money from the regular U.S. Treasury.

When this program was originally established only persons 65 or older could get such "medical relief."

As of Jan. 1, 1966, any state can expand the program to include needy children under 21 and their parents; also, needy persons of any age who are blind or otherwise disabled.

Meanwhile, Social Security cash benefits have been raised. In most cases, these increases date back to Jan. 1, 1965. Under the new scale, monthly Social Security checks range like this:

For a retired worker — $35 to $135.90 (and eventually to $168).

For a retired couple—$51.70 to $203.90 (eventually $252).

For a disabled worker — $44 to $135.90 (eventually to $138.60.

For a child — $22 to $102 (eventually to $126).

Maximum for one family — $309.20 (eventually $368).

Social Security also makes lump - sum death payments. These range from $132 to $255.

in a written memo "and it was not in any of his discussions."

Ford's statement:

"I am deeply concerned by the White House comment. Sen. Mansfield's statement Tuesday afternoon at the White House conference made no mention of the callup of the military reserves. I have made no subsequent comment to anyone connecting Sen. Mansfield's views with the President's decision not to call up reserves to active duty at this time."

Johnson, who plans to return to Washington late tonight after what he described as "a delightful, restful weekend," said on other matters:

—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has orders to trim every unneeded military job so it will be easier to fill troop requirements in Viet Nam.

—Robert W. Akers, an old Johnson friend and retired Texas newspaper editor, will become deputy director of the U.S. Information Agency, succeeding Donald Wilson who resigned.

Presidential talks with Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, a weekend guest, covered the whole gamut of United Nations affairs and the potential U.N. role in promoting a Viet Nam settlement.

The President, with his wife passing out hot cookies and offering coffee and soft drinks, met newsmen after he, Lady Bird and the Goldbergs attended Sunday services at the First Christian Church in Johnson City.

scattered mortar attacks across South Viet Nam Sunday. Government casualties were reported "moderate."

Communist forces opened fire on 15 government positions south of Saigon. They also hit three outposts south of Hue, 390 miles north of Saigon, and knocked out 30 feet of a highway bridge and a section of railroad bridge near Da Nanag.

A small U.S. Marine patrol near Da Nanag was caught in an open rice field by sniper fire. A military spokesman said casualties were heavy.

Among the Communist targets were the provincial capitals of Long An, 20 miles south of Saigon, and Go Cong, 35 miles south of the capital. One American was among the wounded at Go Cong.

The guerrillas also fired on a South Korean military camp at Di An, near the Bien Hoa air base, Sunday night but no casualties were reported.

U.S. war planes continued bombing raids against targets in North Viet Nam and suspected Viet Cong installations in South Viet Nam. Forward artillery observers claimed 230 Viet Cong were killed by air strikes in South Viet Nam during a 24-hour period ending Sunday.

The government opened a mass military trial in Saigon today of 21 persons charged with undermining the war effort by signing various peace petitions.

The tribunal has the power to impose death sentences.

Defendants include Nguyen Long, an attorney who headed the now defunct "People's Self-Determination Movement," which advocated a cease-fire.

One of two women on trial is Pham Thi Thanh Van, whose father was deported to the Communist North with two other peace movement leaders earlier this year.

A U.S. spokesman said that James S. Killen, director of U.S. economic aid to South Viet Nam, is leaving his post to return to Washington. Killen, 57, has administered the foreign aid program since July 1964.

The spokesman did not say when Killen would leave his post.

U.S. military commanders gathered in Honolulu today to discuss the 50,000-man buildup planned for Viet Nam. Among those attending were Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, and Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp Jr., commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said on a radio and television program (CBS — Face the Nation) from Washington Sunday that it is vital to establish a stable civil government in South Viet Nam.

"Our biggest mistake" has been the "overemphasizing of the military and not putting enough emphasis on the civilian side" he said.

Russell said if there were a plebiscite in South Viet Nam, the people "would vote to place themselves under Ho Chi Minh," the North Vietnamese president because of the instability of the South Vietnamese government.

Authoritative sources in New Delhi said nonaligned nations are going to make a new attempt to bring governments concerned in Viet Nam to the conference table.

Big Crowds Take Part In Hollow Rock's Rites

With near - capacity congregations on hand Sunday, services continued today at the 128th annual Hollow Rock camp meeting.

Dr. O. C. Weigel, an evangelist of Little Rock, Ark., will preach tonight at 7:30.

Tuesday's schedule calls for Dr. E. W. Martin of Michigan to speak at 10:30 a.m. and Dr. John R. Church at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. K. C. Fraser of Pittsburgh addressed the meeting last night, with his theme "Winds." He drew many analogies between the physical aspects of winds and the working of the spirit of God.

A musical program, presented under the direction of Prof. Marvin G. Dean of Upland, Ind., included a duet, "Grace Abounded More," by Dr. and Mrs. Bartlett of Canton; a solo, "Amazing Love, How Could It Be," by the Rev. Bill Cox of Urundi, Africa, and "Everybody Say 'Amen'," by the choir.

It was announced that one of the speakers during Friday's "Missionary Day" will be a converted Hindu woman from India.

The camp, which for several years has given missionary offerings of approximately $21,000, has increased the goal to $25,000 during the present session.

The annual letter from Dr. J. L. Brasher, noted evengelist from Alabama, was read yesterday morning. Dr. Brasher has ministered at Hollow Rock more often than any other preacher in the many years of the holiness gathering.

His letter pointed out that he is approaching 97 years of age, has answered the annual roll call in his Alabama Methodist Conference 73 times and has preached a full salvation gospel for 65 years. The newest dormitory at Hollow Rock is named Brasher Dormitory in his honor.

The board's senior member, W. W. Sloan of East Liverpool, is missing the meeting for the first time as a board member. Sloan, who will be 92 years old Tuesday, is confined to a rest home in Salem.

Police Seek Coeds' Killer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Groping for solid clues to the killers of Shirley Ann Stark and Susan Rigsby, detectives sought today to run down scores of items missing from the car in which the two disappeared.

Texas Ranger Bill Wilson said the spot where the young women changed dresses after friends last saw them was another vital bit of information sought in massive investigation.

Bodies of the two sorority sisters from Dallas, badly decomposed and nearly nude, were found Friday hidden among weeds in a vacant lot near the north edge of Austin. The spot is .6 mile from a roadside ditch where part of their clothing turned up July 19, a day after they disappeared.

Miss Stark's car was located on an apartment house parking lot near the University of Texas on July 20.

An autopsy report stated Miss Rigsby was strangled but the cause of Miss Stark's death could not be determined.

Fires Destroy Large Pine Areas On Riviera

TOULON, France (AP)—Raging fires whipped by a dry sirocco wind from North Africa destroyed at least 25,000 acres of pine forests along the French Riviera early today, officials reported.

Shortly after dawn the south wind died, and officials said the fires were brought under control in all areas. They said the flames could be extinguished completely if the wind did not rise again.

Five persons were reported injured, and at least 20,000 vacationers and homeowners were evacuated.

Storms Halt Effort

Elderly Pair Prevented From Climbing Mountain

REDCLIFF, Colo. (AP) — A Wisconsin couple has been forced by stormy, wet and cold weather to abandon plans to climb the 14,005-foot Mount of the Holy Cross, a snow-crowned peak about 150 miles west of Denver.

H. Russell Briggs, 72, and his wife, 77, of Madison, Wis., started climbing Colorado's highest peaks on their honeymoon 45 years ago and returned here last week to climb the peak overlooking this community.

The Briggses had planned to start a two-day climb today.

Newsmen were advised that the Briggses had left early today on the return trip to Madison.

The couple made their first climb as newlyweds in 1920, hiking up towering Pike's Peak near Colorado Springs.

Back in Colorado last week, the Briggses made successful assaults on Mount Evans (14,264 feet) and Gray's Peak (14,270 feet).

In the early days, Mrs. Briggs said, they used ropes, pitons and "all those crazy things," but gave up the fancy equipment when their reflexes slowed.

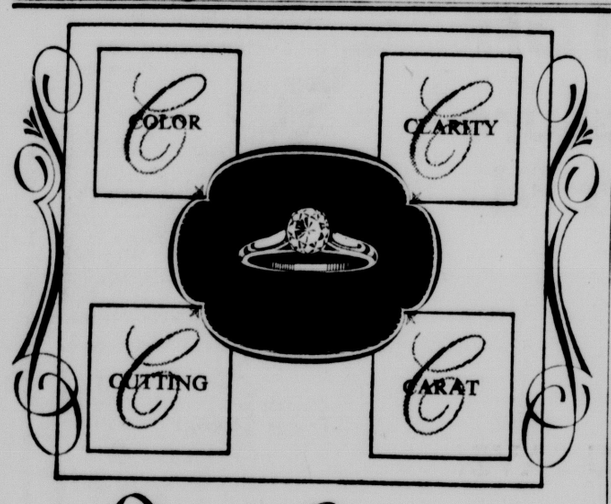

"Now we scramble," she said, "with hands, feet and elbows."

Briggs, who runs a market research business, says his wife is the superior climber of the two.

"She can look over a 1,000-foot cliff with her toes hanging over the edge," he said. "Me, I like to hold on to something."

A few years ago he fell 20 feet from a crumbling rock on 14,018-foot Pyramid Peak near Aspen. A finger smashed in the accident had to be amputated. It has been their only climbing accident.

Diamond Cornerstones

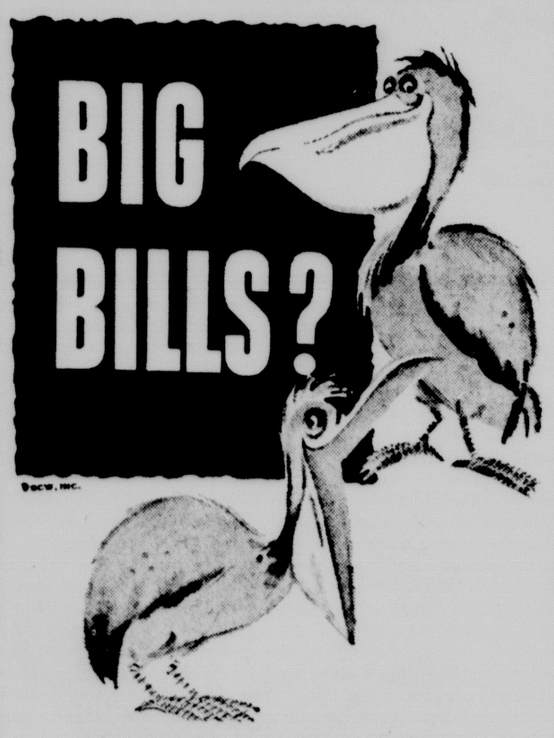

The American Gem Society and its members classify diamonds according to four factors—Cutting, Color, Clarity and Carat Weight. Of these, it is cutting, color and clarity which determines the per-carat price of average-size gems.

Accuracy of cutting is of prime importance to the beauty of your diamond since any deviation from ideal proportions noticeably affects fire and brilliance of the stone.

Let our trained gem expert explain this and other quality points to you in detail when selecting your gem.

Liberties Group Plans Test Of Ohio Bus Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Civil Liberties Union will test in court the constitutionality of the school bus transportation bill the Ohio Legislature passed Friday.

Executive Secretary Louis J. Phillips issued a statement Sunday for directors saying the union had "consistently opposed all attempts to use public funds for private purposes on ground that such activity violates the Constitution's command of separation of church and state and infringes upon political freedom and religious liberty."

Two Fined, Three Injured In Series Of Accidents

Two motorists were fined and two young women and the son of one were injured in weekend mishaps, police reported.

John W. Whitaker, 21, of 403 Broadway, Wellsville, was fined $50 and costs today in municipal Court as the aftermath of a one-car accident shortly after midnight at W. 8th St. and Shadyside Ave.

Whitaker pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge filed by Patrolman D. K. Mumaw.

The officer said Whitaker, who escaped injury, was headed west when he lost control of his 1954 sedan and it struck a utility pole. The auto crossed the medial strip and finally came to a halt on the berm of the eastbound lane, approximately 225 feet from the pole. His car was demolished, officers said.

Earl O. McGee, 41, of Industry drew a fine of $25 and costs from Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a similar charge after his auto hit a parked car early Sunday morning at Pennsylvania Ave. and Cuba Alley.

Injured in a spectacular crash on Harvey Ave. at 4:55 p.m. Sunday were Ginger Katzenmeyer, 19, of 313 Louisiana Ave., Chester, and her passengers, Mrs. Jerilyn Norris, 21, of 930 Myler Park, and her son, Steven Norris, 4.

The three were taken to the hospital by ambulance after being removed from the 1962 sedan which rolled 15 feet down an embankment, halting against a small tree.

The Chester woman was treated for contusions and abrasions of the head and neck while Mrs. Norris received an injury of the left shoulder. Her son received no visible injury, the hospital said.

Miss Katzenmeyer told Patrolman W. F. Copestick she was headed west when the auto spun around, hit the front and rear of the parked auto of Eugene A. Black of P. O. Box 1445 and knocked down a newspaper box.

The car continued spinning for 45 feet before plunging down the embankment, the officer's report showed.

Extensive damage was done to the right side of a 1963 convertible owned by Atty. George Aronson, 2300 St. Clair Ave., when it struck a parked car and a utility pole on Walnut St. near Minerva St. Sunday at 7:50 p.m.

Jeffrey Lewis, 16, of Pittsburgh, who was driving, told police he lost control on the wet pavement. The auto struck the parked auto of Rick Thomas of Fredericktown and the utility pole when he swerved to avoid a pedestrian, young Lewis told police.

Officers said Earl Rhodes, 808 Avondale St., and James L. Powell, 1712 Jennings Ave., witnessed the mishap.

Crinolines Given Fashion Boost In Molyneux Show

PARIS (AP) — Captain Molyneux came out for crinolines in his new collection, shown today.

Hems have been up and down in the Paris openings, but this was the first time they were out — over stiff conical underskirts.

The Molyneux silhouette was narrow-tipped. It skimmed out over the waist to lie smooth on the gently bobbing cone underneath. Ladylike hems were about mid-knee.

Not everything was crinolined in the Molyneux collection, but the line was almost always wider at the base.

Coats were narrow-shouldered pyramids, rippling wide in smooth wools. Necklines were high and slender. Sleeves were long and narrow, and often cuffed. Hats were high, narrow jockey caps.

Patch pockets were part of the Molyneux look, often so big that they provided silhouette interest.

Crinolines notwithstanding, Molyneux has modernized considerably since his comeback last January. His look is elegant and soignee, just right for the women who do buy couture, give or take a few pockets, perhaps.

Molyneux was the last big name to show on the official Paris program.

Freighter Spots Sailor-Newsman Near Irish Coast

ROTTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS (AP)—"In my 32 years at sea, I never had such an encounter," said the captain of a German freighter of his visit at sea with Cleveland newspaperman Robert Manry.

Wilhelm Beck said upon docking Sunday that his ship, the Bishofstor, spotted Manry in his 13½-foot sailing craft about 750 miles off the coast of Southern Ireland last Wednesday.

He said he at first thought Manry, 48-year-old copy editor for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, was in distress and had his ship steer to within 50 yards of the little vessel.

But Manry, who is sailing alone across the Atlantic, cheerfully told him, "everything is all right."

Manry left Falmouth, Mass., June 1 with 90 days provisions aboard.

Storms Halt Effort

Elderly Pair Prevented From Climbing Mountain

REDCLIFF, Colo. (AP) — A Wisconsin couple has been forced by stormy, wet and cold weather to abandon plans to climb the 14,005-foot Mount of the Holy Cross, a snow-crowned peak about 150 miles west of Denver.

H. Russell Briggs, 72, and his wife, 77, of Madison, Wis., started climbing Colorado's highest peaks on their honeymoon 45 years ago and returned here last week to climb the peak overlooking this community.

The Briggses had planned to start a two-day climb today.

Newsmen were advised that the Briggses had left early today on the return trip to Madison.

The couple made their first climb as newlyweds in 1920, hiking up towering Pike's Peak near Colorado Springs.

Back in Colorado last week, the Briggses made successful assaults on Mount Evans (14,264 feet) and Gray's Peak (14,270 feet).

In the early days, Mrs. Briggs said, they used ropes, pitons and "all those crazy things," but gave up the fancy equipment when their reflexes slowed.

"Now we scramble," she said, "with hands, feet and elbows."

Briggs, who runs a market research business, says his wife is the superior climber of the two.

"She can look over a 1,000-foot cliff with her toes hanging over the edge," he said. "Me, I like to hold on to something."

A few years ago he fell 20 feet from a crumbling rock on 14,018-foot Pyramid Peak near Aspen. A finger smashed in the accident had to be amputated. It has been their only climbing accident.

Diamond Cornerstones

The American Gem Society and its members classify diamonds according to four factors—Cutting, Color, Clarity and Carat Weight. Of these, it is cutting, color and clarity which determines the per-carat price of average-size gems.

Accuracy of cutting is of prime importance to the beauty of your diamond since any deviation from ideal proportions noticeably affects fire and brilliance of the stone.

Let our trained gem expert explain this and other quality points to you in detail when selecting your gem.

ASC Slates Prepared For Voting In Beaver

Glenn Campbell, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today that slates of nominees for membership on the ASC community committees are now being established at the ASCS county office in Beaver.

Campbell said the committee is making a special effort "To encourage the greatest possible participation of eligible voters in the election" and pointed out that any local resident who is eligible to take part in an ASCS farm program may vote and may hold office as a committeeman "regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin."

Farmers who are eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve, according to the chairman.

Such petitions, he said, each one nominating one farmer and signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed at the county office any time before Aug. 11. Eligible voters may sign as many petitions as they wish.

Each community election will choose three community committeemen and two alternates The chairman, vice chairman and third regular member of the elected ASC community committee also will serve as delegates to the county convention. The ASC county committee will be chosen at the convention.

"We want the best man available to serve on our ASC community committees," Campbell emphasized, "because the committee system is the backbone of farm programs — those dealing with conservation of soil and water, as well as the price support activities for various committees."

The wheel flew another 50 feet and hit Johnny Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cain, Hutchinson. The boy suffered head injuries.

The jalopy driver, Herb Copeland, 25, of Dodge City, collapsed in shock when he learned of the death.

Wheel Kills Boy In Kansas Race

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — A wheel came off a race car and hurtled into a crowd of spectators Sunday, striking two 9-year-old boys. One was killed and the other was injured critically.

The accident occurred during the national championship jalopy races.

Steven Paul Hasty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paschal Scott of Arkansas City, Kan., was struck and killed while standing about six feet from his mother south of the fairgrounds grandstand.

The wheel flew another 50 feet and hit Johnny Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cain, Hutchinson. The boy suffered head injuries.

The jalopy driver, Herb Copeland, 25, of Dodge City, collapsed in shock when he learned of the death.

12 Arrested In Effort To Slay Bhutan King

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Twelve persons have been arrested following an abortive attempt to kill the King of Bhutan, reports from the neighboring kingdom of Sikkim said today.

The Bhutan government said a hand grenade was thrown and several shots were fired Saturday night as King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk was visiting the Kyichu monastery about 30 miles from Thimbu, the capital of Bhutan. The king was not hurt, the announcement said.

British Writer Taken

LONDON (AP)—Arthur Watkins, 58, playwright and former secretary of the British Board of Film Censors, died Saturday of injuries suffered in an auto accident. Under the name Arthur Watkyn, he wrote "For Better, For Worse" and "Not in the Book."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Perhaps if my children see this in your column they will believe it. I cannot seem to get through to them. Please ask your printers to put the next sentence in large type.

I DO NOT WANT A TV SET.

Let me explain. I'm a widow with three lovely daughters. They are generous, kind and thoughtful. Their husbands are grand, too. My children would do anything in the world for me.

For three years they have been trying to give me a TV set for Christmas, Mother's Day, Easter — anything. I happen to enjoy the radio and I also read books. I don't want a TV set.

Yesterday my oldest daughter called and said, "Mother, please let us buy you a TV for Labor Day — even if you never turn it on. We want you to have one just so the neighbors can see the antenna."

I don't want a TV set, Ann, and I wish they'd quit pestering me. Please help. — A FREAK, NO DOUBT.

-:-

Dear No Freak: Let your children buy you an antenna. Tell them they can skip the set.

Son's Problem

Dear Ann: Our 13-year-old son is a good boy. He seems bright enough at home but for some reason he does poorly in school.

The real problem is that Douglas is uphappy because he has no friends. The children in the neighborhood pick on him. His classmates are mean and snobbish. They never include him in their social activities. Naturally, the boy feels very much alone.

My husband and I are considering putting Douglas in another school. We have even thought of selling our home and moving to another neighborhood. It stands to reason that this unfriendly atmosphere will have a permanently damaging effect on our son.

Please comment on Christian charity. Is it a thing of the past?—DISILLUSIONED.

Dear Disillusioned: It's pathethic that parents would want their son to be accepted out of "charity" rather than for his personal worth.

Changing schools will not offer any answers. And neither will moving to another neighborhood — because you'll be taking the problem with you.

The problem is Douglas. The kids are reacting to Douglas' personality, which must be obnoxious. And you don't help by making excuses for the boy.

The school counselor or your physician can guide you. I hope you will get the boy the help he needs or he'll always be out of step.

For Late Bloomers

Dear Ann: I'd like to sit in your chair for a few minutes and say a few words to that high school girl who said she'd rather stay home than accept a date with a creep.

I had the same idea when I was in high school — and I sat home plenty. Several years later I realized that today's creep might be tomorrow's prize. I know now that every person has a blooming period and some times the late bloomer has the more genuine and more durable bloom.

The self - centered girl who doesn't want to be bothered with the awkward and shy lad may have passed up a rare jewel. The girl who has good sense will go out with the "creep." It could be precisely what the boy needs to gain confidence and make him less creepy on the next date.—SMJ.

-:-

Dear SMJ: You've said it in a different way. My battle cry for teen-age girls is this: Quit running after the two or three hot shots in the crowd. The ability to recognize potential can be the most rewarding talent of all.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Taste Satisfaction On Smaller Portions

Intermittent dieting is not the way to control weight. Those who keep slim, apparently without dieting, curb calories through smaller portions. Why not try the plan? You can appease hunger and achieve taste satisfaction without too much quantity. Eating should always be a pleasure, perhaps especially when calories are curbed.

Ida Jean Kain

Desserts seem to be a big problem. You could be happy with a small portion of dessert. A friend of mine delights in ice cream. To keep calories pointed toward the svelte side, she uses a small ice cream dipper. Actually, it measures just two tablespoons. She often serves this slimming portion with a half cup of berries, unsweetened. It's delicious. Take that tip—invest in a small size dipper.

—:—

NOW LET'S talk about satiety. The satiety value of a food is the measure of the extent to which a food gives a sense of well-being and satisfaction. It's a fascinating fact that certain foods appease hunger more effectively than do others, completely apart from the calorie story.

A dynamic action breakfast can be a figure saver. Food alone causes an increase in metabolism. This explains in part why it is slimming to eat breakfast and to include a protein food at the first meal of the day.

With regard to satiety value, meat heads the list, for it stays by you. Eggs are also high in satiety. Experiment. You'll see that an egg and a small piece of lean meat keeps you going happily until lunch time. To curb calories, have a thin slice of toast, or even a half slice. To insure vitamin C, have citrus fruit or juice. Hot coffee, of course. On alternate mornings you may enjoy cereal with whole milk and fresh berries. Go light on sugar.

WHAT TYPE of lunch do you find satisfying? For homemakers, left - over lean meat or chicken on a slice of bread, placed under the broiler, provides good nutrition. Or, have an open-face toasted cheese sandwich. On cereal mornings, treat yourself to an omelette for lunch. Many homemakers slight the noon meal and overeat at dinner. That's fattening practice.

Plan dinner around a protein food, one starch and two vegetables. It is well to be in-the-know on starches. When eaten with meat, chicken or fish, starchy food adds to meal satisfaction. But, seconds on starchy foods boost the calories more than the satiety. Vegetables and chewey salads provide essential nutrients and add needed fullness, which is part of the normal satisfaction of hunger.

Cut portions and you automatically cut calories. Those who stay slim "naturally" do it by this plan. Only overeating is fattening.

Send, stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

1 Youth Killed, 3 Hurt In Race From Police

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—An attempt to flee police approaching for a routine check led to the crash of a car full of teen-age boys Saturday night, killing one.

The driver, Marvin Dale Harrison, 16, of Hamilton, Ohio, and his brother Fred and three Indiana youths were injured while Paul Handley of Connersville was killed. Their auto, with a cruiser in pursuit, failed to make a curve north of town, hitting a pole and fence.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Children Learn By Imitating Words

At my neighbor's home we had just finished eating dinner. The tot, ten months old, had climbed to her father's knees. He was holding her gently and comfortably. All of us were relaxed. The youngster, looking into her father's eyes, said, "dah." The father imitated this sound. The child repeated and the father repeated it after her. This happened twelve successive times. The youngster looked pleased.

Dr. Garry Myers

After a short pause she looked into my eyes across the table and made the same sound and I imitated her each of eight times; after which she quit making the sound. Following another pause, this youngster looking into my eyes said "eh." I repeated directly and this went on for nine successive times.

—:—

SOME observers might have supposed this little child was imitating her father and me. But she was not. We were imitating her. Yet, because we did, she inclined to make each sound more often.

How did she learn these sounds? Nobody had taught her. She hit upon them herself as she experimented. Clearly a little child seems impelled to make sounds. She hits on one she likes and repeats it.

When older persons imitate her she is the more ready to make the same sound again and again.

I hope to check on this youngster after several weeks or months to find out when she begins to imitate a sound or word I choose to make. I couldn't be quite sure even then that she would really be imitating me, for I might merely repeat a sound or word she had made before; in which case she would not be truly imitating me.

I THINK it is safe to say that when a youngster first says "Dad" or "Ma," with meaning, he is repeating a sound he often had made before without meaning. So pleased at hearing this youngster utter these words, we may put meaning into them long before he does. Our expressed pleasure causes him to repeat and gradually to say these words with meaning.

Long before the baby experimenting with speech utters a sound which we interpret as a meaningful word, he probably has made this sound once or often without meaning to him. Sure we are to repeat after him then, to imitate him. Gradually he learns through imitating himself to imitate us.

For any parents to observe carefully such development of the young child's speech can be great fun and can afford considered insight. Best of all, this observation may cause use to be so appreciate of the youngster's effort as to provide him with the atmosphere of love he needs to acquire speech happily and successfully.

AS THE little child masters a few words in speech, he continues more or less rapidly in his speech development because he is so eager to communicate with us and to get our warmth of appreciation and affection. See then how soon he will enjoy having us read to him.

Ohio Escapee Hunted By Louisiana Officers

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—A statewide search was under way today for Francis Aubrey Clifton of Columbus, Ohio, who is described by authorities as extremely dangerous.

Clifton, 25, bolted from his maximum security cell here Sunday. He crawled through a utility conduit to the roof of the courthouse.

Clifton was convicted of murder in the death of C. C. Wilson Jr. of Jonesville, a U. S. Department of Agriculture poultry inspector who had given him a ride in September 1962.

Three months later, Clifton was captured in Detroit, Mich. He directed authorities to a spot near Glenmora where the body of Wilson was found.

To conceal unattractive features in a room, such as radiators, telephone cords, etc., paint them the same color as the wall.

Steel Production May Lose Effectiveness As Barometer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel production rate—now at a high level—will temporarily lose its value as a business barometer if a new steel labor contract is settled without a strike, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly explained that many companies have stockpiled their inventories in case of a strike, "so a decline in steel production will make industrial activity look lower than it actually is."

The magazine said steel ingot production rates are heavy factors in many indexes of industrial output.

Logan T. Johnston, president of Armco Steel Corp., estimates that approximately 10 million tons of steel have been added to consumer inventories since the beginning of this year, raising them to a record 28 million tons, Steel said.

"A strikeless settlement will touch off a decline in the steel production rate, but steel consumption and business are expected to remain high," it added.

The magazine said steel's biggest consumer, the auto industry, will start production soon of 1966 models and the construction industry, steel's second biggest consumer, is having its biggest year ever.

Production of steel for ingots and castings was estimated at 2,590,000 net tons for the week ended July 31, equivalent to an annual rate of 134.7 million tons. Production will continue near this pace in the week ending Aug. 7, Steel said.

Output for the past two months has been an almost identical 11.6 million tons, Steel said, bringing the total for the first seven months of 1965 to 82.2 million tons. "That's 15 per cent over the 71.4 million tons made in the first seven months of last year," the magazine added.

Garden Bench Serves As Attractive 'Border'

Livability in the back yard means different things to different people.

For some, nothing will do short of a full - scale summerhouse with built-in telephone and TV jacks and indoor quality furniture.

For others, a deck or patio with sunshade, wind controls and a couple of chaise lounges is just the ticket.

Still others are delighted with a garden bench set under a big shade tree — and this can be as fully usable as the more complex installations.

For example, if there is a good shade tree in the back yard as well as thick shrubbery or a screening fence for privacy along the lot line, a simple garden bench jogged around the tree trunk and down the property line can form the nucleus for a very practical and attractive outdoor living area.

Probably only two additional ingredients would be needed. One would be a floor of some type to avoid the damp grass problem for evening use. Crushed rock is one favorite choice. It gives a tailored look and also works in well with lawn and planting beds.

Another idea, gleaned from children's playgrounds, is the use of wood chips. The advantage of using wood chips is that they create a soft, carpet-like feeling and give safe footing—no turned ankles from stepping on a pebble the wrong way.

Children can rough - and-tumble on it without fearing skinned elbows and knees. No splinters, either, from wood chips. And, of course, if a chip lands in the lawn, it won't break mower blades.

A firepit is the other ingredient that's mighty nice to have for this casual living and entertaining area. They're especially good for evening gatherings, when light and warmth are welcome. And, what's more fun for both adults and kids than an old - fashioned wiener and marshmallow roast?

Back to that most essential ingredient — the bench. It's best when built of pressure - treated western lumber. Pressure - treated lumber will lsat virtually forever and retains its good looks just as long.

For solid comfort, build the bench slightly lower than a standard chair seat and wider — 12 to 14 inches high by 18 or more wide. Douglas fir 2-by-3s set on edge and spaced an eighteenth of an inch apart (for rain run-off) are good for the seat. The base can be built of 4-by-4-inch fence posts. And it should be recessed so heels can be tucked under comfortably. For appearance, use a 2-by-6 as a facing skirt board at the front of the bench.

One other tip — zigzag the bench if possible, so that people can sit in conversation groups rather than in a straight line. And don't use stain to finish the bench — it may come off on clothing. Just let the wood weather, or paint it if desired.

Services Set For TV Director At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Funeral services for Ronald E. Peirolo, 37, a producer-director for television station WEWS will be held Wednesday morning. He died of cancer Saturday.

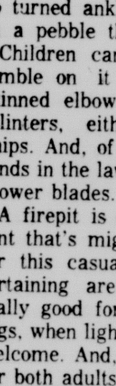

With the station six years, Peirolo had been a producer-director for three years and produced such shows as Captain Penny, The Paige Palmer Show, Romper Room and the Peter Nero Show. Each fall he directed a series on high school football in the area.

A native of Warren, he was a graduate of Western Reserve University. His father, Dr. James J. Peirolo, is a professor at John Carroll University.

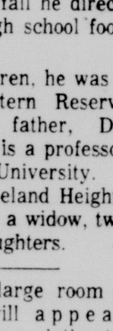

He lived in Cleveland Heights and is survived by a widow, two sons, and two daughters.

By painting a large room a deep shade, it will appear smaller and more intimate. While warm colors are preferred, a cool wall color can achieve the same result if it is accented with warm colored accessories or furnishings.

By The Associated Press

Traffic mishaps claimed the lives of 22 across Ohio over the weekend for another high accidental toll this summer.

The plane crash deaths of two Cleveland area couples en route home from a weekend trip to Iowa paced the miscellaneous death toll of at least eight. Two Cleveland brothers—aged 13 and 9—were killed in a Cleveland cemetery when a tunnel they had dug into a mound of dirt collapsed.

The cool weather that plagued the state kept the weekend drowning toll down to just one —a 21-month-old toddler in a backyard swimming pool.

This brought the over - all weekend fatality count to at least 31.

The fatalities:

Thomas McBride, 38, Cleveland, when the car in which he was riding hit a two-foot high concrete wall on Cleveland's East Side.

Donna L. Underwood, 17, when the motorcycle on which she was riding with a boyfriend veered across the center line and struck another car while attempting to pass on a Butler County road near Miltonsville.

Mrs. Muriel Witt, 30, Cincinnati, when her car swerved into a trailer-tractor truck near Cincinnati's northern limits.

Mark Kratky, 13, and brother Gregory, 9, when a tunnel they had dug into a mound of dirt at a Cleveland cemetery collapsed and buried them.

Charles T. Ruff, 43, Whitehall, when his car crashed just south of Columbus on Ohio 665.

James E. Roe Jr., 19, Sandusky, when the sports car in which he was riding slammed into a tree on Cedar Point Causeway near Sandusky.

Gary Keith Garrett, 25, Laurelville, when his motorcycle collided with a car on Ohio 56 in western Hocking County.

Joseph Grodner, 17, Columbus, thrown from his motorcycle when it hit a parked car, landing in the path of a car on Columbus East Side.

Friday night

Warren Taylor, 74; Mrs. Lorena Taylor, 29; Donald Taylor, 7; Kathy Lynn Taylor, 20 months, and Sheila Will, 16, Beaver Falls, Pa., when their car ran off Ohio 14 in Columbiana County three miles west of Ohio-Pennsylvania line and hit a tree.

Val A. Pinney, 36, Ashtabula, when the motorbike he was riding was struck by a car on U.S. 20 east of Ashtabula.

Tracy Carmen, 21 months, drowned in the swimming pool in the backyard of his home near Lafayette in Allen County.

So, it's a good idea to paint them with a moisture resistant paint, says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. One of the best is a semi-gloss enamel. Ohio Escapee Hunted By Louisiana Officers

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—A statewide search was under way today for Francis Aubrey Clifton of Columbus, Ohio, who is described by authorities as extremely dangerous.

Clifton, 25, bolted from his maximum security cell here Sunday. He crawled through a utility conduit to the roof of the courthouse.

Clifton was convicted of murder in the death of C. C. Wilson Jr. of Jonesville, a U. S. Department of Agriculture poultry inspector who had given him a ride in September 1962.

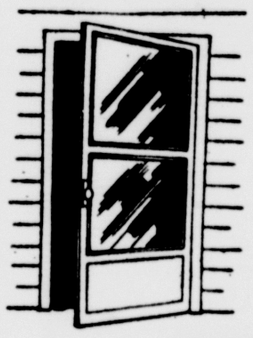

Three months later, Clifton was captured in Detroit, Mich. He directed authorities to a spot near Glenmora where the body of Wilson was found.

To conceal unattractive features in a room, such as radiators, telephone cords, etc., paint them the same color as the wall.

Steel Production May Lose Effectiveness As Barometer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel production rate—now at a high level—will temporarily lose its value as a business barometer if a new steel labor contract is settled without a strike, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly explained that many companies have stockpiled their inventories in case of a strike, "so a decline in steel production will make industrial activity look lower than it actually is."

The magazine said steel ingot production rates are heavy factors in many indexes of industrial output.

Logan T. Johnston, president of Armco Steel Corp., estimates that approximately 10 million tons of steel have been added to consumer inventories since the beginning of this year, raising them to a record 28 million tons, Steel said.

"A strikeless settlement will touch off a decline in the steel production rate, but steel consumption and business are expected to remain high," it added.

The magazine said steel's biggest consumer, the auto industry, will start production soon of 1966 models and the construction industry, steel's second biggest consumer, is having its biggest year ever.

Production of steel for ingots and castings was estimated at 2,590,000 net tons for the week ended July 31, equivalent to an annual rate of 134.7 million tons. Production will continue near this pace in the week ending Aug. 7, Steel said.

Output for the past two months has been an almost identical 11.6 million tons, Steel said, bringing the total for the first seven months of 1965 to 82.2 million tons. "That's 15 per cent over the 71.4 million tons made in the first seven months of last year," the magazine added.

Garden Bench Serves As Attractive 'Border'

Livability in the back yard means different things to different people.

For some, nothing will do short of a full - scale summerhouse with built-in telephone and TV jacks and indoor quality furniture.

For others, a deck or patio with sunshade, wind controls and a couple of chaise lounges is just the ticket.

Still others are delighted with a garden bench set under a big shade tree — and this can be as fully usable as the more complex installations.

For example, if there is a good shade tree in the back yard as well as thick shrubbery or a screening fence for privacy along the lot line, a simple garden bench jogged around the tree trunk and down the property line can form the nucleus for a very practical and attractive outdoor living area.

Probably only two additional ingredients would be needed. One would be a floor of some type to avoid the damp grass problem for evening use. Crushed rock is one favorite choice. It gives a tailored look and also works in well with lawn and planting beds.

Another idea, gleaned from children's playgrounds, is the use of wood chips. The advantage of using wood chips is that they create a soft, carpet-like feeling and give safe footing—no turned ankles from stepping on a pebble the wrong way.

Children can rough - and-tumble on it without fearing skinned elbows and knees. No splinters, either, from wood chips. And, of course, if a chip lands in the lawn, it won't break mower blades.

A firepit is the other ingredient that's mighty nice to have for this casual living and entertaining area. They're especially good for evening gatherings, when light and warmth are welcome. And, what's more fun for both adults and kids than an old - fashioned wiener and marshmallow roast?

Back to that most essential ingredient — the bench. It's best when built of pressure - treated western lumber. Pressure - treated lumber will lsat virtually forever and retains its good looks just as long.

For solid comfort, build the bench slightly lower than a standard chair seat and wider — 12 to 14 inches high by 18 or more wide. Douglas fir 2-by-3s set on edge and spaced an eighteenth of an inch apart (for rain run-off) are good for the seat. The base can be built of 4-by-4-inch fence posts. And it should be recessed so heels can be tucked under comfortably. For appearance, use a 2-by-6 as a facing skirt board at the front of the bench.

One other tip — zigzag the bench if possible, so that people can sit in conversation groups rather than in a straight line. And don't use stain to finish the bench — it may come off on clothing. Just let the wood weather, or paint it if desired.

By painting a large room a deep shade, it will appear smaller and more intimate. While warm colors are preferred, a cool wall color can achieve the same result if it is accented with warm colored accessories or furnishings.

Suggestions Are Given For Antique Finishing

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Everyone who has ever done any wood finishing has his own idea of how to produce an antique finish.

This applies even to professionals. Ask any three of them the best way to get an antique effect and you are likely to get three different answers.

Antiquing can be done over an old finish, although most old-timers insist that the previous coatings be removed first with varnish or paint remover.

In either case, a thorough sanding with a fine grade of paper is essential. It takes the gloss off an old finish and smooths the surface of bare wood.

The basic method of antiquing calls for painting with an enamel undercoater. When this is completely dry, apply a coat of light-colored enamel over it.

In both these applications, be careful not to fill up the grooves of furniture carvings with paint.

Note the instructions on the label of the enamel container about the drying time.

Whenever it is, wait at least twice as long as it recommends, then go ahead with the glazing. In a shallow dish, mix three tablespoonfuls of turpentine, one tablespoon of clear varnish and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of burnt turkey umber.

Working slowly and not covering more than a four-square-foot area at a time, apply the mixture with a small, soft brush.

The antique effect comes when you wipe over the wet glazing mixture with a clean cloth, using light, stroking movements.

If the first result doesn't please you, wipe off the glaze quickly with a clean rag dipped in turpentine. Apply new glaze and wipe again. Once you have the right effect, continue with the entire piece of furniture.

Wait a couple of days and then, if you wish to give the finish a preserving quality, coat it with clear varnish. Use the regular varnish for a glossy surface; one of the satiny types for a less-glossy result.

To antique pine, try this formula: Apply a coat of orange shellac, diluted with five parts of denatured alcohol, to raw wood.

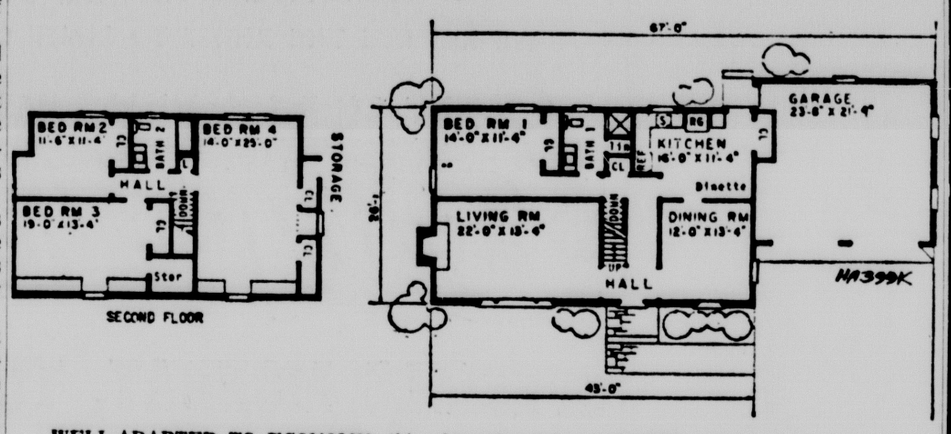

Mix one teaspoonful of burnt turkey umber with three tablespoons of raw sienna and five tablespoons of linseed oil. Brush on, then wipe off with a clean rag, again using delicate strokes.

Here's an old-timer, also for use on new wood. Mix one part of potassium permanganate, available in a drug store, with 10 parts of water. Using rubber gloves, apply with a sponge. This a chemical change in the wood that gives it an aging effect.

Many manufacturers now make wood-graining and antique kits intended to permit a variety of aging results without stripping off old finishes.

No matter how you do your antiquing, experiment first on scrap wood. Two persons using exactly the same formulas can come up with different results, depending on how much pressure is applied during the wipe-off movements.

Good Insulation Can Suffer From Lack Of Ventilation

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

While modern insulation has been one of the most important improvements made in house building, it is entirely inadequate by itself unless accompanied by some of the other—and older—procedures for making a dwelling comfortable.

A fully insulated house is no warmer in the winter than a poorly built shack unless it has a heating plant. A fully insulated house is no more comfortable during the summer than a closed-up canvas tent unless it is properly ventilated. When sensible measures are taken, insulation doubles their value.

One of the greatest mistakes made these days is the failure to ventilate the attic of a house. If the roof is insulated, or the floor of the attic insulated without provision being made for ventilation, the attic will soon become a furnace. The high temperature developed there will transfer itself to the ceiling of the floor below, and from there to the interior walls.

If you doubt this, just climb on a chair and place your hand against the ceiling on a good hot day. The insulation will do its part in throwing back the heat, but you have to help it by seeing that there is an escape for any heat generated.

Windows in an attic are fine, but you always have the problem of running up and down to shut them during storms.

Unless rooms are finished off in the attic, the most economical means of ventilation—with the least amount of trouble—is found in the ready-to-install louvres. These triangular aluminum assemblies cost but a fraction of the price of windows and are set where they do the most good — right up close to the peak of the roof, where summer temperatures are the highest.

Be comfortable all year. The cost is little and the results well worth it.

A New Head May Answer Shower Need

When you get under your shower these sultry summer days for a refreshing pickup, is the water a mere trickle? Do you get sudden surges of too-hot or too-cold water?

If so, you may be depending on an antique showerhead — one of those things that looks like the spout of an old-fashioned watering can. It may be clogged, and it probably doesn't have water flow or temperature control.

The solution is easy and inexpensive, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago points out. You need a new showerhead.

Modern showerheads are self-cleaning. They have a multi-spray feature that is adjustable from a fine needle to a drenching stream. Another adjustment enables the user to concentrate the water flow on himself, thereby using less water, with less splattering.

The new models have thermostatically controlled mixing valves that regulate the temperature and water flow. They also compensate for changes in water pressure. So there are no sudden rushes of icy or scalding water.

Your qualified plumbing contractor can help you select the showerhead you want from a large variety on the market today.

Tips Are Offered On Leak-Stopper

Question: I have to fix several leaky faucets. My hardware dealer says I should try a new kind of leak-stopper that uses rivets instead of screws to hold the washers in place.

Do you know anything about this, and is it better than just replacing the old washers?

Answer: There are many kinds of gadgets on the market intended to prevent facuets from dripping when the water is shut off at the sink. Some are good, some are not good.

The kind you mention is relatively new. It is installed by shutting off the water at the main valve or the shutoff valve under the sink, removing the faucet stem, taking off the old screw and discarding them. A tiny plastic cup is placed in the washer seat and held in place with what is called a split rivet.

The proper-sized rubber disc is forced into the plastic cup, and the faucet is reassembled. Its manufacturer claims it will assure a long-lasting seal. One way to test it is to install a regular washer in one faucet and the new arrangement in a similar faucet. Time will provide you with your answer.

Question: We have just installed an exhaust fan in a window in our kitchen. There is another window in the kitchen right next to the one with the fan. Should this second window be kept open or closed?

Answer: When the exhaust fan is operating, the second window should be closed. If it is kept open, air will come in that window and be quickly pulled out again through the window with the fan. The air you want moved out of the room is that already in the kitchen — air usually clogged with moisture and cooking odors.

The old saying "A stitch in time saves nine" is just as true for painting as it is for sewing. "A touch up in time saves nine," says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. So, it's a good idea to check the painted surfaces around your home periodically. If there are areas that need to be touched up, do it now. It will save you time and money in the long run.

2 Couples Killed As Plane Breaks Apart Over Ohio

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — A single - engined aircraft broke apart in the sky about nine miles northwest of here Sunday and hurled two couples to their death. Federal and state investigators tried today to learn what went wrong.

It was raining at the time, and the weather may have been a factor, State Highway Patrolmen said. They said witnesses had heard no explosions.

Killed were David L. Raymond, 44, of Lyndhurst, a Cleveland suburb; his wife, Ruth, 41; Henry Hein, 52, of Chardon and Hein's wife.

Raymond, the pilot and part-owner of the aircraft, was an engineer with John Fuller & Associates of Cleveland and for many years was chief engineer at the Dupp Corp. in Cleveland. Hein was an engineer for the W. S. Tyler Co of Mentor.

The crash occurred at 5:38 p.m. between Woodsville and Gibsonburg. Pieces of the plane fell on both sides of U.S. 20. One wing fell north of the highway, the other south.

Shellac is one of the most widely used finishes for floors. It dries quickly and protects them from excessive dirt, dust and wear. A second coat generally can be applied to a floor an hour after the first.

Worms Turned Into Profits By Trio Of Brothers

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The three young Vinduska boys aren't much concerned about teen-age competition for summer jobs. They've gone into business for themselves.

The trio—Jarel, 14, Gary, 13, and John, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Vinduska—organized a worm sales business for the summer and are doing quite well, thank you.

The firm, with Jarel as general manager, is grossing better than $100 a month according to its well-kept ledgers. Gary is president and John is executive vice president. Overhead costs are close to zero.

The boys dig for worms along a nearby creek in the morning when it's cool.

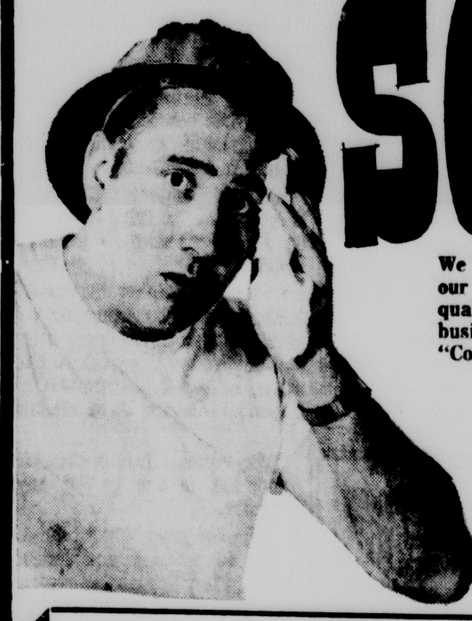

The firm maintains a stand outside the Vinduska home. A feature of the business is a "worm honor system" as a sign on the stand proclaims. The honor system goes into effect when the young executivies leave the stand open during absences from home. Customers help themselves and deposit the fee in a box. Jarel reports the system works satisfactorily, that nearly everyone pays for the worms taken, and that many leave a tip.

Good Crops In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil, a traditional victim of drought, is experiencing one of its most bountiful harvests because of generous rainfall.

Although the nation normally imports corn, Brazil this year will have 1.9 million tons available for export. Increases in other crops range from 6 per cent in dried beans to 75 per cent in peanuts.

Suggestions Are Given For Antique Finishing

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Everyone who has ever done any wood finishing has his own idea of how to produce an antique finish.

This applies even to professionals. Ask any three of them the best way to get an antique effect and you are likely to get three different answers.

Antiquing can be done over an old finish, although most old-timers insist that the previous coatings be removed first with varnish or paint remover.

In either case, a thorough sanding with a fine grade of paper is essential. It takes the gloss off an old finish and smooths the surface of bare wood.

The basic method of antiquing calls for painting with an enamel undercoater. When this is completely dry, apply a coat of light-colored enamel over it.

In both these applications, be careful not to fill up the grooves of furniture carvings with paint.

Note the instructions on the label of the enamel container about the drying time.

Whenever it is, wait at least twice as long as it recommends, then go ahead with the glazing. In a shallow dish, mix three tablespoonfuls of turpentine, one tablespoon of clear varnish and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of burnt turkey umber.

Working slowly and not covering more than a four-square-foot area at a time, apply the mixture with a small, soft brush.

The antique effect comes when you wipe over the wet glazing mixture with a clean cloth, using light, stroking movements.

If the first result doesn't please you, wipe off the glaze quickly with a clean rag dipped in turpentine. Apply new glaze and wipe again. Once you have the right effect, continue with the entire piece of furniture.

Wait a couple of days and then, if you wish to give the finish a preserving quality, coat it with clear varnish. Use the regular varnish for a glossy surface; one of the satiny types for a less-glossy result.

To antique pine, try this formula: Apply a coat of orange shellac, diluted with five parts of denatured alcohol, to raw wood.

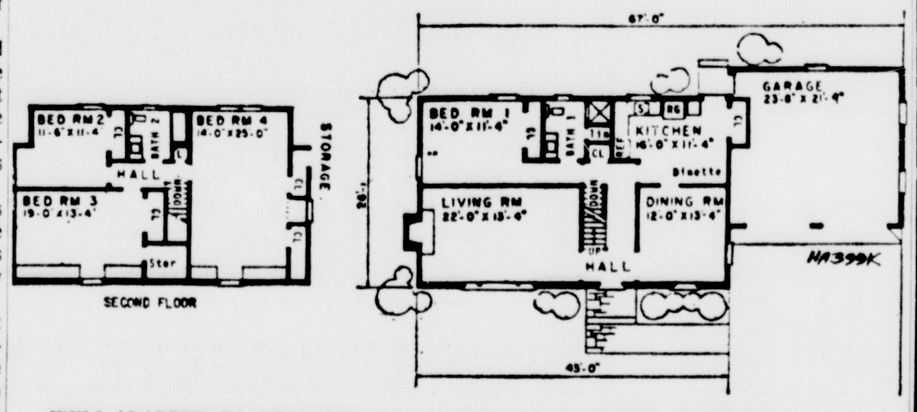

Mix one teaspoonful of burnt turkey umber with three tablespoons of raw sienna and five tablespoons of linseed oil. Brush on, then wipe off with a clean rag, again using delicate strokes.

Here's an old-timer, also for use on new wood. Mix one part of potassium permanganate, available in a drug store, with 10 parts of water. Using rubber gloves, apply with a sponge. This a chemical change in the wood that gives it an aging effect.

Many manufacturers now make wood-graining and antique kits intended to permit a variety of aging results without stripping off old finishes.

No matter how you do your antiquing, experiment first on scrap wood. Two persons using exactly the same formulas can come up with different results, depending on how much pressure is applied during the wipe-off movements.

WELL-ADAPTED TO ECONOMY, this charming Colonial, HA399K, offers a bedroom downstairs with an adjacent bathroom. Handsome living room and dining room are on opposite sides of the center hall and the kitchen is spacious, yet compact. On the upper floor there are three more bedrooms and a second full bath. The area is 1,160 square feet on the first floor. Architect is Derick B. Kipp, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y. 10036.

Good Insulation Can Suffer From Lack Of Ventilation

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

While modern insulation has been one of the most important improvements made in house building, it is entirely inadequate by itself unless accompanied by some of the other—and older—procedures for making a dwelling comfortable.

A fully insulated house is no warmer in the winter than a poorly built shack unless it has a heating plant. A fully insulated house is no more comfortable during the summer than a closed-up canvas tent unless it is properly ventilated. When sensible measures are taken, insulation doubles their value.

One of the greatest mistakes made these days is the failure to ventilate the attic of a house. If the roof is insulated, or the floor of the attic insulated without provision being made for ventilation, the attic will soon become a furnace. The high temperature developed there will transfer itself to the ceiling of the floor below, and from there to the interior walls.

If you doubt this, just climb on a chair and place your hand against the ceiling on a good hot day. The insulation will do its part in throwing back the heat, but you have to help it by seeing that there is an escape for any heat generated.

Windows in an attic are fine, but you always have the problem of running up and down to shut them during storms.

Unless rooms are finished off in the attic, the most economical means of ventilation—with the least amount of trouble—is found in the ready-to-install louvres. These triangular aluminum assemblies cost but a fraction of the price of windows and are set where they do the most good — right up close to the peak of the roof, where summer temperatures are the highest.

Be comfortable all year. The cost is little and the results well worth it.

A New Head May Answer Shower Need

When you get under your shower these sultry summer days for a refreshing pickup, is the water a mere trickle? Do you get sudden surges of too-hot or too-cold water?

If so, you may be depending on an antique showerhead — one of those things that looks like the spout of an old-fashioned watering can. It may be clogged, and it probably doesn't have water flow or temperature control.

The solution is easy and inexpensive, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago points out. You need a new showerhead.

Modern showerheads are self-cleaning. They have a multi-spray feature that is adjustable from a fine needle to a drenching stream. Another adjustment enables the user to concentrate the water flow on himself, thereby using less water, with less splattering.

The new models have thermostatically controlled mixing valves that regulate the temperature and water flow. They also compensate for changes in water pressure. So there are no sudden rushes of icy or scalding water.

Your qualified plumbing contractor can help you select the showerhead you want from a large variety on the market today.

Tips Are Offered On Leak-Stopper

Question: I have to fix several leaky faucets. My hardware dealer says I should try a new kind of leak-stopper that uses rivets instead of screws to hold the washers in place.

Do you know anything about this, and is it better than just replacing the old washers?

Answer: There are many kinds of gadgets on the market intended to prevent facuets from dripping when the water is shut off at the sink. Some are good, some are not good.

The kind you mention is relatively new. It is installed by shutting off the water at the main valve or the shutoff valve under the sink, removing the faucet stem, taking off the old screw and discarding them. A tiny plastic cup is placed in the washer seat and held in place with what is called a split rivet.

The proper-sized rubber disc is forced into the plastic cup, and the faucet is reassembled. Its manufacturer claims it will assure a long-lasting seal. One way to test it is to install a regular washer in one faucet and the new arrangement in a similar faucet. Time will provide you with your answer.

Question: We have just installed an exhaust fan in a window in our kitchen. There is another window in the kitchen right next to the one with the fan. Should this second window be kept open or closed?

Answer: When the exhaust fan is operating, the second window should be closed. If it is kept open, air will come in that window and be quickly pulled out again through the window with the fan. The air you want moved out of the room is that already in the kitchen — air usually clogged with moisture and cooking odors.

The old saying "A stitch in time saves nine" is just as true for painting as it is for sewing. "A touch up in time saves nine," says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. So, it's a good idea to check the painted surfaces around your home periodically. If there are areas that need to be touched up, do it now. It will save you time and money in the long run.

2 Couples Killed As Plane Breaks Apart Over Ohio

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — A single - engined aircraft broke apart in the sky about nine miles northwest of here Sunday and hurled two couples to their death. Federal and state investigators tried today to learn what went wrong.

It was raining at the time, and the weather may have been a factor, State Highway Patrolmen said. They said witnesses had heard no explosions.

Killed were David L. Raymond, 44, of Lyndhurst, a Cleveland suburb; his wife, Ruth, 41; Henry Hein, 52, of Chardon and Hein's wife.

Raymond, the pilot and part-owner of the aircraft, was an engineer with John Fuller & Associates of Cleveland and for many years was chief engineer at the Dupp Corp. in Cleveland. Hein was an engineer for the W. S. Tyler Co of Mentor.

The crash occurred at 5:38 p.m. between Woodsville and Gibsonburg. Pieces of the plane fell on both sides of U.S. 20. One wing fell north of the highway, the other south.

Shellac is one of the most widely used finishes for floors. It dries quickly and protects them from excessive dirt, dust and wear. A second coat generally can be applied to a floor an hour after the first.

Worms Turned Into Profits By Trio Of Brothers

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The three young Vinduska boys aren't much concerned about teen-age competition for summer jobs. They've gone into business for themselves.

The trio—Jarel, 14, Gary, 13, and John, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Vinduska—organized a worm sales business for the summer and are doing quite well, thank you.

The firm, with Jarel as general manager, is grossing better than $100 a month according to its well-kept ledgers. Gary is president and John is executive vice president. Overhead costs are close to zero.

The boys dig for worms along a nearby creek in the morning when it's cool.

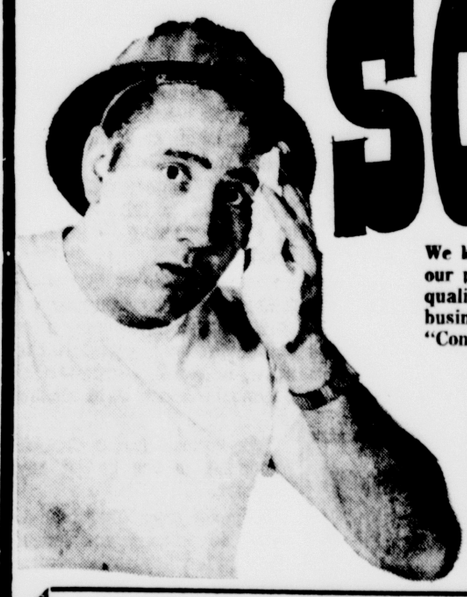

The firm maintains a stand outside the Vinduska home. A feature of the business is a "worm honor system" as a sign on the stand proclaims. The honor system goes into effect when the young executivies leave the stand open during absences from home. Customers help themselves and deposit the fee in a box. Jarel reports the system works satisfactorily, that nearly everyone pays for the worms taken, and that many leave a tip.

Good Crops In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil, a traditional victim of drought, is experiencing one of its most bountiful harvests because of generous rainfall.

Although the nation normally imports corn, Brazil this year will have 1.9 million tons available for export. Increases in other crops range from 6 per cent in dried beans to 75 per cent in peanuts.

Burden Continues To Mount

Fourth Of Ohio's Budget Goes For New Highways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State of Ohio spends almost a fourth of its budget on highways, a staggering billion dollars every two years.

Almost half of it comes from the federal government, to build the giant network of interstate highways across the state.

The rest is paid for by the people who drive—and some who don't. State law says money from gasoline taxes, auto licenses, truck axle taxes, etc., must be used "for no other purpose" than highways.

Bond money for highway improvements—a sizable chunk of the state's road spending — is paid for by everybody.

Financing experts say pinning down the source of highway funds is really just an exercise in accounting.

It all comes out of the taxpayers pocket.

The financial burden seems likely to increase in the years ahead. The reasoning is simple: More people plus more cars equals more roads.

When the interstate network is complete in 1972, there will be a new problem — maintenance.

"We have nothing that would indicate to us that Congress will participate in maintaining interstate highways," says C. L. Emmons, financial advisor to Ohio Highway Director P. E. Masheter.

"The outlook from a financial standpoint is not good," says Emmons.

Emmons says Ohio has not sacrificed primary and secondary road building at the expense of interstate money. But, he adds, "our maintenance is suffering a little. We have additional mileage to maintain."

There are other signposts of a growing highway burden.

In 1954, two years before the interstate program began, the Ohio Highway Department had 7,394 employes with an annual payroll of $26.2 million.

At the end of fiscal 1964, the department had 9,614 employes with a yearly payroll of $46.6 million. The payroll for the next two years is estimated at $52.5 million.

Where does this billion dollars every two years go?

The estimated budget for the period 1965-1967 is planned like this: $859 million for highway construction, $105 million for payroll, $36.5 million for maintenance, $6.4 million for equipment and about $45 million for other purposes.

The department expects to get $311 million from state gasoline taxes, $481 million in federal aid, $220 million from bond money, $17 million from cities and counties (paying their share) and about $22 million from other revenues.

Auto tag money, driver license money, temporary license plate money and similar sources of revenue are earmarked for the Highway Safety Department.

But the bulk of expenses goes for construction.

In fiscal 1965, Ohio let contracts on 110 miles of interstate road at a cost of more than $300 million. Major thoroughfares, exclusive of interstate, totaled $136 million for 144 miles. The department let 528 miles of auxiliary and local road projects at a cost of $42 million. Resurfacing 1,922 miles was figured at $12.4 million.

The total of projects let covered 2,706 miles with a cost of $491.5 million.

The state, of course, will not pay all the cost. The federal government puts up 90 per cent of the money on interstate work 50 per cent on major thoroughfares (like U.S. highways) and 50 per cent on auxiliary highways (frequently state highways feeding U.S. roads.)

Financing for Appalachian highways is expected to be a 90-10 per cent basis. In healthier states, like Ohio, the state may be expected to put up 30 per cent.

Most highway engineers and designers agree on one thing: There is never enough money.

"There are a lot of cases where we cramp ourselves," says William E. Reed, division engineer of the Bureau of Public Roads.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My mother washed 25 shirts per week, and I always use her method of laundering my shirts.

I turn the shirts inside out, and include several towels and the usual soap . . .

You'll be amazed how this method cleans the necklines and cuffs without one bit of scrubbing, or putting anything (not even chalk!) on the soiled parts before putting them into the washing machine.

Thank you for the help your column has given me.

BERT WINTER.

-:-

DEAR MR. WINTER: I tried it and I know that it works.

The terry cloth towels act as a gentle buffer and abrasive and remove the soil lines on the shirts.

Thank you for this fantastic, timesaving idea.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I like to cover my little boys' polo shirts when they eat, but bibs purchased from stores never seem large enough. So I make bibs out of old terrycloth hand towels.

When a towel gets too thin to absorb much, I fold it in half crosswise, stitch across the width (about a half inch from the fold) then run a white shoe lace through this casing.

The towel gathers where the shoe lace is tied; it adjusts to any size neck and makes a snug fit.

The two thicknesses provide good protection for clothing, and the bibs launder easily and require no ironing.

It's a great time saver for me, with three boys under three years of age . . who are not the neatest eaters!

MRS. R. PENIKAS.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I had a good idea, but can't think what it was — so don't publish it . . .

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When trying to cut homemade pizza, and your cheese won't cut, place the edge of your spatula where you want the division, and draw a sharp knife along the edge of the spatula.

The spatula holds the cheese in place, and your pizza cutting is neater, easier and more efficient.

NETTIE SADLER.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A paper napkin holder makes a wonderful holder for bills or letters.

They are also very good for packages of spaghetti and gravy mixes, chili seasoning, etc.

JENNIE SHERWOOD.

You are a livin' doll!

The mixes had me stumped — they were always sliding all over the cupboard shelf and make it look so untidy.

Now they're in the napkin holder, and the shelf is neat as a pin.

Thanks, Jennie.

Braves Take Pair From Giants; Dodgers Hold 1½ Lead

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger wants to stay on the farm, and four National League pennant contenders would like the Braves to send him there immediately.

Cloninger extended his mastery over the Braves' first-division opposition Sunday, pitching a seven-hitter in Milwaukee's 4-2 first-game triumph over San Francisco.

The Braves completed the doubleheader sweep, defeating the Giants 6-3 in the nightcap and moving into third place, 3½ games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The victory was Cloninger's 14th against eight defeats, but even more painful to the other teams in the first division it gave the North Carolina farmer a 7-0 record against the Dodgers, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

In those seven games against the top contenders, Cloninger has gone the distance five times and 7 2-3 innings in the other two. His earned run average in the games is a sparkling 1.95 compared with 3.66 over-all.

That means the 24-year-old right-hander has won seven and lost eight while compiling a poor 4.62 ERA against the second division.

Despite the slowdown with the bottom five teams, Cloninger is headed for the best of his five seasons in the majors. Last year, on his way to a 19-14 record, the Brave ace had only 10 victories at this time.

Cloninger's also headed for a bigger and better farm.

He now has 55 acres of land, six quarter horses, two bird dogs and six coon dogs. He soon hopes to start raising quarter horses.

As far as those four teams are concerned, the sooner the better.

In other National League games, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati defeated Houston 6-4 before losing 7-6, Pittsburgh swept Chicago 8-2 and 3-1 and Philadelphia nipped New York 3-2.

The Braves' sweep gave them a 15-6 record since the All-Star break. Cloninger has won four of the games and lost none.

Mack Jones paved the way for Cloninger with a two-run homer against Ron Herbel in the first inning. Willie Mays had three of the Giants' seven hits, but Cloninger got him on a foul pop with the tying run on base in the seventh.

Ed Mathews' 22nd homer, a three-run blast in the third, put the Braves ahead to stay in the nightcap. Billy O'Dell's ninth-inning relief job saved Wade Blasingame's 13th victory in 20 decisions.

Sandy Koufax stopped the Cardinals on five hits for his 18th triumph against only four defeats. Koufax struck out 11 and drove in the deciding run with a seventh-inning sacrifice fly. Ray Sadeck held the Dodgers hitless, but Wes Parker homered in the sixth and Jim Lefebvre connected in the seventh.

Two-run homers by Pete Rose and Tony Perez, plus a two-run single by Deron Johnson, carried Cincinnati past Houston in the opener. Reliever Ted Davidson scattered 11 hits 7 2-3 innings for his first major league victory.

Joe Gaines singled across Houston's winning run in the ninth inning of the second game. The Astros charged to a 6-5 lead with three runs in the seventh, two on Bob Lillis' double, but Frank Robinson's 19th homer tied it in the Reds' half of the inning.

Manny Mota and Donn Clendenon each stroked three hits and drove in two runs, supporting Al McBean's victory in his first start in two years. Don Schwall saved the triumph for McBean, pitching the last three innings for Pittsburgh.

Joe Gibbon and Schwall combined to limit the Cubs to three hits in the nightcap. Gibbon didn't allow a hit until Larry Jackson led off the sixth with a triple and scored on Ellis Burton's sacrifice fly. Bill Virdon scored one Pittsburgh run and singled across another.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning won his 12th game but had to leave after seven innings because he reinjured his right ankle. John Callison hit a two-run homer, his 24th, and Tony Gonzalez added a bases - empty blast, offsetting a two-run homer by the Mets' Charley Smith.

9th-Inning Homer By Powell Slows Rampaging Twins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It doesn't take much for a man Boog Powell's size to turn goat's horns into a hero's halo. A swing here and there and the job's done.

Powell, the strapping Baltimore Oriole slugger who stands 6-foot-3 and weighs 235 pounds, played turnabout against Minnesota Sunday and kept the Twins from making a runaway of the American League race.

It was Powell's three-run homer in the ninth inning that gave the Orioles a 7-6 come-from-behind victory over the Twins and deprived Minnesota of a seven-game lead over the Orioles.

It was also Powell who tried to short-hop Earl Battey's eighth inning hit and let the ball get by, allowing the Twins to score two runs instead of one. That broke a 4-4 tie and gave Minnesota reliever Al Worthington a two-run margin going into the ninth.

Worthington got the first out but that all. He walked Luis Aparicio and Jackie Brandt, bringing up Powell. Sam Mele brought on southpaw Dick Stigman to face the left-handed hitter.

"Stigman got two strikes on me with curves on the corners," Powell said later. "I was looking for a breaking pitch because that's all they were throwing me. I hit a curve ball, over the inside half of the plate."

The ball sailed 385 feet into the right field bleachers for Powell's ninth home run of the season.

Meanwhile, Cleveland moved within 5½ games of the lead by splitting a doubleheader against New York. Sam McDowell's three-hitter won the nightcap 4-1 after three Yankee homers had powered New York to a 10-6 victory in the opener.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago and Detroit split two, with the White Sox winning the opener 1-0 for Joe Horlen but the Tigers coming back for a 2-1 victory in the nightcap behind Dave Wickersham. Kansas City and Washington split, the Senators winning the first 3-2 and the A's taking the second 3-2. Los Angeles nipped Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

McDowell was superb, retiring the last 20 men he faced and striking out 11. The strikeouts ran his season's total to 201. Only Sandy Koufax has struck out more batters this season.

In the first game, home runs by Roger Repoz, Joe Pepitone and Clete Boyer erased an early Indian lead and helped the Yankees come from behind. Pepitone's shot, with two on, tied it against ex-Yankee Ralph Terry.

Jose Cardenal, who had come into the game as a pinch runner an inning earlier, delivered a bases-loaded, two-out single in the 11th for the Angels' victory. Dick Radatz, 5-9, took the loss.

Horlen's three-hitter stifled Detroit in the first game but the Tigers gained the split when Bill Freehan scored all the way from second on Don Buford's error with two out in the ninth. Dave Wickersham 5-8 won his fourth game in 13 days in the nightcap.

Frank Howard drove in two runs and scored the third as Washington tripped Kansas City in the opener. Pete Richert, 8-8, won it on an seven-hitter. The A's managed the split with Santiago Rosario's pinch single in the sixth inning driving in the deciding run in the second game.

Musuraca Hurls No-Hitter In Pony Win

Rain Halts Play Sunday; EL Nine Will Resume Contest Today

Righthander Jim Musuraca carved his name in the local Pony League Hall of Fame by pitching a no - hitter in a 8-1 victory for the East Liverpool Pony stars over Moundsville Saturday at Dopler Field.

The no - hitter by Musuraca gave East Liverpool a one-game edge to take into today's game. The second game Sunday at Moundsville was halted by rain after two and a half innings with the score tied 3-3 and Moundsville batting. The game was to be resumed today at 2 p. m. from that point.

A SECOND game will be played today if Moundsville should win the opening contest.

Musuraca fanned eight batters and had some fine support from his teammates in hurling the no - hitter. Only three balls were hit to the outfield and Alan Six made two outstanding catches to protect the no-hit effort.

—:—

THE NO-HITTER was the third of young Musuraca's pitching career. He hurled one as a Little Leaguer and last year recorded his second in a Pony League playoff game.

Moundsville scored its lone run in the sixth inning when Musuraca walked Tribett who stole second and came home on a disputed play.

EAST Liverpool collected eight hits with shortstop Bill Montgomery's solo home run and single leading the hit parade.

The locals came up with three runs in the first inning and had another three - run fourth frame to take a commanding lead over the West Virginians. Paul Berhar pounded two doubles and Musuraca got one for the locals.

—:—

JAMES also was the winning pitcher and turned in some fine relief work when he relieved Tom Moore in the ninth inning. James gave up only one hit in four frames. Mike Goodballet drove in East Liverpool's first run.

Pittsburgh out - hit East Liverpool 9-6 but the local entry showed four errors.

Smith collected two of East Liverpool's six hits.

Two Strokes In Front Of Player

Nicklaus Finishes Strong To Win Thunderbird Title

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, the mighty belter from Ohio, edged South Africa's Gary Player in their down-to-the-wire duel Sunday for $20,000 top money in the Thunderbird Golf Classic. He clinched the victory with a pair of precise shots that led to birdies on the final two holes.

Nicklaus fired his fourth successive sub-70 round over the Westchester Country Club's compact west course — a four-under-par 68. That, along with earlier rounds of 67, 66 and 69, gave him a 72-hole of 270 and a two-stroke margin over Player, who posted a 71.

Nicklaus, who repeatedly drove the greens with his explosive tee shots and whipped his long irons for phenomenal yardage, boosted his leading money-winning total for the year to $89,700. He won the Memphis Open, in addition to the Masters, and has been in the first five in 12 of his 15 tourneys this year.

Player earned $12,000 for second, while Gardner Dickinson, who zoomed into third at 275 with a 67 over Westchester's well-tailored 6,573-yard layout, won $6,000. Next came Bobby Nichols with a 68 for 276.

Billy Casper soared to a 74 after being in prime contention and finished at 277. Arnold Palmer improved to a 69, tying for 11th at 280, and Tony Lema, who won $20,000 as Thunderbird champion last year, managed a $511 paycheck for a 285.

Browns Offensive Unit Impresses Stars' Coach

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—A former Cleveland lineman believes the Browns' offensive unit looks as if it has been practicing all winter and spring.

Mike (Moe) Scarry, ex-center for the Browns, made the remark after scouting the National Football League champions Saturday with Tommy O'Connell, former Cleveland quarterback. Both are now coaches with the college All-Stars.

"The Browns look much better than the Chicago Bears," said O'Connell. The Bears trounced the collegians in a practice game last Thursday.

The Browns' offense collected a field goal and four touchdowns for 31 points in a scrimmage against the defensive unit Saturday.

The All - Stars and Browns meet Friday night in Chicago.

Scarry and O'Connell said they were impressed with the pinpoint passing of quarterback Frank Ryan and the pass-grabbing of Johnny Brewer, Gary Collins, Paul Warfield and Walter Roberts.

The Browns, who opened training camp July 14, leave for Chicago Thursday afternoon.

Linebacker Tom Goosby of Alliance quit the squad during the weekend, cutting the roster to 54. Goosby, a Baldwin-Wallace College product, was hampered by a knee injury in his rookie year, 1963, and saw limited action last year.

Braves Take Pair From Giants; Dodgers Hold 1½ Lead

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger wants to stay on the farm, and four National League pennant contenders would like the Braves to send him there immediately.

Cloninger extended his mastery over the Braves' first-division opposition Sunday, pitching a seven-hitter in Milwaukee's 4-2 first-game triumph over San Francisco.

The Braves completed the doubleheader sweep, defeating the Giants 6-3 in the nightcap and moving into third place, 3½ games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The victory was Cloninger's 14th against eight defeats, but even more painful to the other teams in the first division it gave the North Carolina farmer a 7-0 record against the Dodgers, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

In those seven games against the top contenders, Cloninger has gone the distance five times and 7 2-3 innings in the other two. His earned run average in the games is a sparkling 1.95 compared with 3.66 over-all.

That means the 24-year-old right-hander has won seven and lost eight while compiling a poor 4.62 ERA against the second division.

Despite the slowdown with the bottom five teams, Cloninger is headed for the best of his five seasons in the majors. Last year, on his way to a 19-14 record, the Brave ace had only 10 victories at this time.

Cloninger's also headed for a bigger and better farm.

He now has 55 acres of land, six quarter horses, two bird dogs and six coon dogs. He soon hopes to start raising quarter horses.

As far as those four teams are concerned, the sooner the better.

In other National League games, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati defeated Houston 6-4 before losing 7-6, Pittsburgh swept Chicago 8-2 and 3-1 and Philadelphia nipped New York 3-2.

The Braves' sweep gave them a 15-6 record since the All-Star break. Cloninger has won four of the games and lost none.

Mack Jones paved the way for Cloninger with a two-run homer against Ron Herbel in the first inning. Willie Mays had three of the Giants' seven hits, but Cloninger got him on a foul pop with the tying run on base in the seventh.

Ed Mathews' 22nd homer, a three-run blast in the third, put the Braves ahead to stay in the nightcap. Billy O'Dell's ninth-inning relief job saved Wade Blasingame's 13th victory in 20 decisions.

Sandy Koufax stopped the Cardinals on five hits for his 18th triumph against only four defeats. Koufax struck out 11 and drove in the deciding run with a seventh-inning sacrifice fly. Ray Sadeck held the Dodgers hitless, but Wes Parker homered in the sixth and Jim Lefebvre connected in the seventh.

Two-run homers by Pete Rose and Tony Perez, plus a two-run single by Deron Johnson, carried Cincinnati past Houston in the opener. Reliever Ted Davidson scattered 11 hits 7 2-3 innings for his first major league victory.

Joe Gaines singled across Houston's winning run in the ninth inning of the second game. The Astros charged to a 6-5 lead with three runs in the seventh, two on Bob Lillis' double, but Frank Robinson's 19th homer tied it in the Reds' half of the inning.

Manny Mota and Donn Clendenon each stroked three hits and drove in two runs, supporting Al McBean's victory in his first start in two years. Don Schwall saved the triumph for McBean, pitching the last three innings for Pittsburgh.

Joe Gibbon and Schwall combined to limit the Cubs to three hits in the nightcap. Gibbon didn't allow a hit until Larry Jackson led off the sixth with a triple and scored on Ellis Burton's sacrifice fly. Bill Virdon scored one Pittsburgh run and singled across another.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning won his 12th game but had to leave after seven innings because he reinjured his right ankle. John Callison hit a two-run homer, his 24th, and Tony Gonzalez added a bases - empty blast, offsetting a two-run homer by the Mets' Charley Smith.

9th-Inning Homer By Powell Slows Rampaging Twins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It doesn't take much for a man Boog Powell's size to turn goat's horns into a hero's halo. A swing here and there and the job's done.

Powell, the strapping Baltimore Oriole slugger who stands 6-foot-3 and weighs 235 pounds, played turnabout against Minnesota Sunday and kept the Twins from making a runaway of the American League race.

It was Powell's three-run homer in the ninth inning that gave the Orioles a 7-6 come-from-behind victory over the Twins and deprived Minnesota of a seven-game lead over the Orioles.

It was also Powell who tried to short-hop Earl Battey's eighth inning hit and let the ball get by, allowing the Twins to score two runs instead of one. That broke a 4-4 tie and gave Minnesota reliever Al Worthington a two-run margin going into the ninth.

Worthington got the first out but that all. He walked Luis Aparicio and Jackie Brandt, bringing up Powell. Sam Mele brought on southpaw Dick Stigman to face the left-handed hitter.

"Stigman got two strikes on me with curves on the corners," Powell said later. "I was looking for a breaking pitch because that's all they were throwing me. I hit a curve ball, over the inside half of the plate."

The ball sailed 385 feet into the right field bleachers for Powell's ninth home run of the season.

Meanwhile, Cleveland moved within 5½ games of the lead by splitting a doubleheader against New York. Sam McDowell's three-hitter won the nightcap 4-1 after three Yankee homers had powered New York to a 10-6 victory in the opener.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago and Detroit split two, with the White Sox winning the opener 1-0 for Joe Horlen but the Tigers coming back for a 2-1 victory in the nightcap behind Dave Wickersham. Kansas City and Washington split, the Senators winning the first 3-2 and the A's taking the second 3-2. Los Angeles nipped Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

McDowell was superb, retiring the last 20 men he faced and striking out 11. The strikeouts ran his season's total to 201. Only Sandy Koufax has struck out more batters this season.

In the first game, home runs by Roger Repoz, Joe Pepitone and Clete Boyer erased an early Indian lead and helped the Yankees come from behind. Pepitone's shot, with two on, tied it against ex-Yankee Ralph Terry.

Jose Cardenal, who had come into the game as a pinch runner an inning earlier, delivered a bases-loaded, two-out single in the 11th for the Angels' victory. Dick Radatz, 5-9, took the loss.

Horlen's three-hitter stifled Detroit in the first game but the Tigers gained the split when Bill Freehan scored all the way from second on Don Buford's error with two out in the ninth. Dave Wickersham 5-8 won his fourth game in 13 days in the nightcap.

Frank Howard drove in two runs and scored the third as Washington tripped Kansas City in the opener. Pete Richert, 8-8, won it on an seven-hitter. The A's managed the split with Santiago Rosario's pinch single in the sixth inning driving in the deciding run in the second game.

The Browns' offense collected a field goal and four touchdowns for 31 points in a scrimmage against the defensive unit Saturday.

The All - Stars and Browns meet Friday night in Chicago.

Scarry and O'Connell said they were impressed with the pinpoint passing of quarterback Frank Ryan and the pass-grabbing of Johnny Brewer, Gary Collins, Paul Warfield and Walter Roberts.

The Browns, who opened training camp July 14, leave for Chicago Thursday afternoon.

Linebacker Tom Goosby of Alliance quit the squad during the weekend, cutting the roster to 54. Goosby, a Baldwin-Wallace College product, was hampered by a knee injury in his rookie year, 1963, and saw limited action last year.

Musuraca Hurls No-Hitter In Pony Win

Rain Halts Play Sunday; EL Nine Will Resume Contest Today

Righthander Jim Musuraca carved his name in the local Pony League Hall of Fame by pitching a no - hitter in a 8-1 victory for the East Liverpool Pony stars over Moundsville Saturday at Dopler Field.

The no - hitter by Musuraca gave East Liverpool a one-game edge to take into today's game. The second game Sunday at Moundsville was halted by rain after two and a half innings with the score tied 3-3 and Moundsville batting. The game was to be resumed today at 2 p. m. from that point.

A SECOND game will be played today if Moundsville should win the opening contest.

Musuraca fanned eight batters and had some fine support from his teammates in hurling the no - hitter. Only three balls were hit to the outfield and Alan Six made two outstanding catches to protect the no-hit effort.

—:—

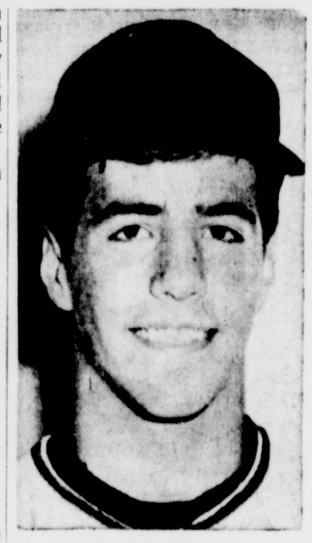

THE NO-HITTER was the third of young Musuraca's pitching career. He hurled one as a Little Leaguer and last year recorded his second in a Pony League playoff game.

Moundsville scored its lone run in the sixth inning when Musuraca walked Tribett who stole second and came home on a disputed play.

EAST Liverpool collected eight hits with shortstop Bill Montgomery's solo home run and single leading the hit parade.

The locals came up with three runs in the first inning and had another three - run fourth frame to take a commanding lead over the West Virginians. Paul Berhar pounded two doubles and Musuraca got one for the locals.

Two Strokes In Front Of Player

Nicklaus Finishes Strong To Win Thunderbird Title

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, the mighty belter from Ohio, edged South Africa's Gary Player in their down-to-the-wire duel Sunday for $20,000 top money in the Thunderbird Golf Classic. He clinched the victory with a pair of precise shots that led to birdies on the final two holes.

Nicklaus fired his fourth successive sub-70 round over the Westchester Country Club's compact west course — a four-under-par 68. That, along with earlier rounds of 67, 66 and 69, gave him a 72-hole of 270 and a two-stroke margin over Player, who posted a 71.

Nicklaus, who repeatedly drove the greens with his explosive tee shots and whipped his long irons for phenomenal yardage, boosted his leading money-winning total for the year to $89,700. He won the Memphis Open, in addition to the Masters, and has been in the first five in 12 of his 15 tourneys this year.

Player earned $12,000 for second, while Gardner Dickinson, who zoomed into third at 275 with a 67 over Westchester's well-tailored 6,573-yard layout, won $6,000. Next came Bobby Nichols with a 68 for 276.

Billy Casper soared to a 74 after being in prime contention and finished at 277. Arnold Palmer improved to a 69, tying for 11th at 280, and Tony Lema, who won $20,000 as Thunderbird champion last year, managed a $511 paycheck for a 285.

Pittsburgh Falls After 13 Innings

The East Liverpool Colt League All - Stars wrapped up another District title and will invade Bellaire Friday for a shot at the Divisional crown.

East Liverpool made it two straight over the Pittsburgh City League All-Stars with a 2-1 victory in a marathon 13-inning game Saturday at Colt Field. The locals had defeated Pittsburgh in the first meeting Friday in a game played at Pittsburgh.

—:—

EAST Liverpool is in a field of four teams which includes Monac, (Pa.) Eastern Ohio All-Stars and Parkersburg. The four teams will meet at Bellaire Friday at 1 p. m. to draw for opponents and games will be played at 4 p. m. and 6 p. m.

The three visiting teams will be quartered in the Bellaire Armory for the three day double elimination tourney.

EAST Liverpool scored one run in the first inning and Pittsburgh tallied its lone run in the second frame in Saturday's game and that is the way the score stood for the next 11 innings.

East Liverpool scored the winning run when Danny Smith singled, stoled second and third and came home on a high bounding ball hit by John James.

—:—

JAMES also was the winning pitcher and turned in some fine relief work when he relieved Tom Moore in the ninth inning. James gave up only one hit in four frames. Mike Goodballet drove in East Liverpool's first run.

Pittsburgh out - hit East Liverpool 9-6 but the local entry showed four errors.

Smith collected two of East Liverpool's six hits.

Catcher Jay Welch ended a Pittsburgh rally when he made a diving catch of a foul pop up.

Russians Score Sweep In Track, U. S. Men's, Women's Teams Fall

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — A dazed U.S. track and field team licked its wounds today from its worst debacle ever in international competition — a loss to the Russians — and asked: "How did it happen?"

Were the Yanks too complacent and over-confident, as suggested by Russian Coach Gabriel Korobkov and seconded by high-ranking U.S. officials?

Did many of their stars wear themelves out in a month of campaigning on the continent prior to the seventh annual U.S.-Soviet meet Saturday and Sunday in this picturesque capital of the Ukraine?

Or was it simply a case of bad luck — mushrooming injuries that felled some of the best of the American athletes in the midst of the crucial meet?

The Russians scored a sweep, winning both the men's and women's competition for the first time since the series was started in 1958. It marked the first time American men track and field stars had ever lost a meet of this kind.

Scoring upsets in such American specialities as the pole vault and sprint relay and winning the 5,000 and 10,000-meter runs, in which the United States had Olympic champions, the Soviet team beat out the U.S. men 118-112 and won for the seventh time from the women, as expected, 65½-45½.

It wasn't a complete disappointment from the American standpoint.

Wyomia Tyus of Griffin, Ga., established herself as the fastest woman runner in the world by winning the 100 meters in world record-tying time of 11.1 seconds, coming from far behind to spearhead a victory in the 400-meter relay and then finishing second Sunday in the 200 meters behind Edith McGuire.

A 15-year-old doll of a schoolgirl named Marie Mulder of Norht Highlands, Calif., had even the Russians cheering for her in finishing a strong second in the 800 meters with the fastest time ever recorded by an American woman — 2 minutes, 7.3 seconds.

In the men's division, Ollan Gassell of Nutley, N.J., emerged as a giant by winning the 400 meters and then stealing the 1600-meter relay out from under the noses of the Russians with a come-from-behind anchor leg. Big Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., awed the Russhcsians with a 66 foot, 6½ inch shot put; six-foot-seven Dave Weill captured the discus with 192 feet, 5 inches and Jim Grelle, who won the 1,500 meter run in the first meet in 1958, did it again with a meet record of 3:39.2.

Amateur Golf Title Match Reset Today

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Bob Smith, a weatherwise ex - Army private, and George Boutell, on a hot winning streak, met today in the rain-delayed championship match of the 63rd Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

The meet was scheduled to end Sunday, with the 18-hole semifinals to be followed in the afternoon by the finals, but 2½ inches of rain in 24 hours deluged the Point O'Woods course.

With a tornado alert to the north and tree-bending wind whipping the drenched links, the semifinals were played after a four-hour delay.

Boutell, 21-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., senior at Arizona State, advanced with a 5 and 4 victory over Michigan's Big Ten titlist Bill Newton.

Smith, a 22-year-old Sacramento, Calif. State physical ed senior, disposed of Bunky Henry, a Georgia Tech senior, 3 and 2.

Smith was even par in Sunday's vile weather for the 16 holes it took him to oust Henry.

Boutell was two-over in his 14-hole match with Newton.

Doubles Victory Spurs Mexicans In Cup Play

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Spurred by a splendid doubles victory, the Mexican Davis Cup team launched an uphill bid today to seize the American Zone championship from the United States.

Faced with the monumental task are Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, who must sweep both singles matches from Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe.

Osuna, Mexico's finest tennis player, square off against top-ranked Ralston and Palafox challenged Ashe, the amazing young Negro who stunned Osuna in the opener Saturday.

Osuna and Palafox brought Mexico back from the brink of elimination Sunday with an 8-6, 6-4, 7-5 triumph over Ralston and Ham Richardson.

It left Mexico trailing two matches to one.

The lithe Palafox was the top player as he and Osuna cut down the American bid for an early championship Sunday.

The U.S. team failed to break service by Palafox until the fourth game of the last set, and his overhead smashes and placements kept Richardson and Ralston in trouble throughout.

The Mexican duo concentrated on Richardson, obviously keeping the play away from Ralston and trying to wear down his 31-year-old teammate.

Richardson dropped his service four times, the final one in the 11th game of the third set. It pushed Mexico out front by 6-5 and set the stage for a sparkling love game behind Palafox's service to close out the match.

Landfried, Brewer Finish High In State Track Meet

Robin Landfried's second place in the running broad jump for age 10 and 11, and a third and fourth place by Roxie Brewer were the top performances by East Liverpool participants in the state Jaycee Junior Track and Field Meet Saturday at Canton.

Brewer finished third in the 100 yard dash for girls 14 and 15 and was fourth in the running broad jump.

Sue Sprouse took a fourth in the standing broad jump for ages 12 and 13 while Larry Roberts finished fourth in the shot put for 16-18 age group.

A relay team of Ralph Carter, Jim Parson, Curtis Jones and Joe Walker finished fifth in the 400-yard shuttle relay for the 12 and 13 age group.

Over 1,000 contestants from 53 cities competed at Canton. Herm Hoppel, chairman of the East Liverpool Jaycee Junior meet and Jack Vodrey escorted the group of 33 boys and girls who represented East Liverpool.

Youth Cited For Slaying As In Movie

NEW YORK (AP)—A Puerto Rican who once starred in a movie about New York street gang warfare and death was charged today in the fatal stabbing of a youth in a street fight.

He is Ramon Ortiz, 22, who five years ago earned $1,000 a week for a major role in the Burt Lancaster film, "The Young Savages," but now is an unemployed laborer.

Ironically, the movie was the television feature film Sunday night (on ABC-TV).

Accused with Ortiz of homicide and felonious assault is Orlando Figeroa, 16.

Police said the pair, and six friends, armed themselves with guns and knives Saturday and set out to avenge themselves of a defeat by an Italian group with whom they had fought earlier.

Spotting five persons sitting on a Harlem stoop, Ortiz demanded, "Are you Italian?" according to Detective Sgt. William McHugh.

"No, we're Puerto Rican," was the reply.

But a fight developed.

Walter Cordero, 16, was stabbed to death. John Morales, 25, is in critical condition with gunshot wounds of the chest and stomach and the three others from the stoop were treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Police said Ortiz had two guns and wounded one of his own friends when someone grabbed his wrist during the fight.

Ray Berres, a former catcher, has been a coach with the Chicago White Sox since 1949.

Ship Christening Due By Marion Anderson

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — The first nuclear vessel named for a Negro will be christened Aug. 14 by Negro singer Marian Anderson.

The ship is the Polaris submarine USS George Washington Carver. It was named for the scientist whose discoveries of synthetic products from peanuts and sweet potatoes figured importantly in the South's economic development.

Launching of the 425-foot craft will be by the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.

Roy McMillan, veteran shortstop with the New York Mets, led National League shortstops in double plays four straight years beginning with 1953. He was with the Cincinnati Reds then.

All-Star Game Features Big Week For Chicago

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago becomes the nation's sport center this week with Friday night's 32nd annual College All-Star Football Game in Soldier Field highlighting festivities.

The Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League, will provide the collegians with more than formidable opposition in the midsummer gridiron classic.

Long before the kickoff, sports editors and football writers from throughout the nation will convene for a hectic schedule of meetings and gatherings.

Football will not be the only sports activity on the agenda. Three big stakes races are scheduled at Arlington Park, with Darby Dan Farm's highly touted 2-year-old Graustark making his stakes debut in Friday's $50,000-added Arch Ward Stakes' named for the late sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, who originated the All-Star Game.

Tom Rolfe, winner of the Preakness, will be favored in the $100,000-added Chicagoan Saturday.

Then there's the Western Junior Girls Golf Tournament in suburban Lake Forest. And the Chicago White Sox will be home. Vice President Hubert Humphrey will arrive Friday to be the principal speaker at the main meeting of the Football Writers' Association of America the day of the game.

The game itself will find the Browns heavily favored. But the All-Stars are capable of pulling surprises, as they have in the past.

Coach Otto Graham has some excellent talent, especially when it comes to passing, football's most potent weapon on offense. At his disposal are such quarterbacks as Roger Staubach of Navy, John Huarte of Notre Dame and Craig Morton of California.

On the receiving end will be Fred Biletnikoff of Florida State, Jack Snow of Notre Dame and Bob Hayes of Florida A&M to name a few.

In past games, the All-Stars have come up with sufficient punch much of the time. Their trouble comes in protecting against the pro passing attack.

Last year, the All-Stars had the Chicago Bears down 10-7 at the half. But a series of defensive miscues in the second half resulted in a 28-17 Bear triumph.

Boy, 9, Survives 3 Nights In New York Mountains

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Herschel Babad, a frail 9-year-old boy who survived three nights and four days in dense Catskill Mountain woodlands, says:

"I never want to go into the woods again."

Herschel was recovering today at Monticello Hospital. He took his first solid food Sunday since he wandered off Wednesday from Camp B'Nai Belz at nearby Woodridge.

Doctors said the Brooklyn lad, who weighs 53 pounds, was in remarkably good condition. He had been without water.

More than 800 persons with bloodhounds and helicopters joined the search for Herschel. In the past 11 years in the same area, three other boys became lost. Two were found dead and the third was never found.

Herschel said his only food was two candies he had in his pockets and some leaves he chewed.

12 Injured As Autos Crash Near Ashtabula

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—The first collision of opposite-bound vehicles on Interstate 90 since the freeway was opened four years ago occurred Sunday a mile west of the Conneaut Interchange and 12 persons were injured.

A westbound station wagon carrying nine Clevelanders went out of control on wet pavement and crossed the 80-foot median strip and collided with an eastbound car carrying a Buffalo family of three.

The injured were treated at two Ashtabula hospitals. All were in fair condition.

Vern Benson, first base coach of the New York Yankees, hit only .202 during his major league career of 55 games.

The airliner was en route from Cairo to Karachi with 84 passengers and 10 crew members.

Russians Score Sweep In Track, U. S. Men's, Women's Teams Fall

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — A dazed U.S. track and field team licked its wounds today from its worst debacle ever in international competition — a loss to the Russians — and asked: "How did it happen?"

Were the Yanks too complacent and over-confident, as suggested by Russian Coach Gabriel Korobkov and seconded by high-ranking U.S. officials?

Did many of their stars wear themelves out in a month of campaigning on the continent prior to the seventh annual U.S.-Soviet meet Saturday and Sunday in this picturesque capital of the Ukraine?

Or was it simply a case of bad luck — mushrooming injuries that felled some of the best of the American athletes in the midst of the crucial meet?

The Russians scored a sweep, winning both the men's and women's competition for the first time since the series was started in 1958. It marked the first time American men track and field stars had ever lost a meet of this kind.

Scoring upsets in such American specialities as the pole vault and sprint relay and winning the 5,000 and 10,000-meter runs, in which the United States had Olympic champions, the Soviet team beat out the U.S. men 118-112 and won for the seventh time from the women, as expected, 65½-45½.

It wasn't a complete disappointment from the American standpoint.

Wyomia Tyus of Griffin, Ga., established herself as the fastest woman runner in the world by winning the 100 meters in world record-tying time of 11.1 seconds, coming from far behind to spearhead a victory in the 400-meter relay and then finishing second Sunday in the 200 meters behind Edith McGuire.

A 15-year-old doll of a schoolgirl named Marie Mulder of Norht Highlands, Calif., had even the Russians cheering for her in finishing a strong second in the 800 meters with the fastest time ever recorded by an American woman — 2 minutes, 7.3 seconds.

In the men's division, Ollan Gassell of Nutley, N.J., emerged as a giant by winning the 400 meters and then stealing the 1600-meter relay out from under the noses of the Russians with a come-from-behind anchor leg. Big Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., awed the Russhesians with a 66 foot, 6½ inch shot put; six-foot-seven Dave Weill captured the discus with 192 feet, 5 inches and Jim Grelle, who won the 1,500 meter run in the first meet in 1958, did it again with a meet record of 3:39.2.

Amateur Golf Title Match Reset Today

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Bob Smith, a weatherwise ex - Army private, and George Boutell, on a hot winning streak, met today in the rain-delayed championship match of the 63rd Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

The meet was scheduled to end Sunday, with the 18-hole semifinals to be followed in the afternoon by the finals, but 2½ inches of rain in 24 hours deluged the Point O'Woods course.

With a tornado alert to the north and tree-bending wind whipping the drenched links, the semifinals were played after a four-hour delay.

Boutell, 21-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., senior at Arizona State, advanced with a 5 and 4 victory over Michigan's Big Ten titlist Bill Newton.

Smith, a 22-year-old Sacramento, Calif. State physical ed senior, disposed of Bunky Henry, a Georgia Tech senior, 3 and 2.

Smith was even par in Sunday's vile weather for the 16 holes it took him to oust Henry.

Boutell was two-over in his 14-hole match with Newton.

Doubles Victory Spurs Mexicans In Cup Play

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Spurred by a splendid doubles victory, the Mexican Davis Cup team launched an uphill bid today to seize the American Zone championship from the United States.

Faced with the monumental task are Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, who must sweep both singles matches from Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe.

Osuna, Mexico's finest tennis player, square off against top-ranked Ralston and Palafox challenged Ashe, the amazing young Negro who stunned Osuna in the opener Saturday.

Osuna and Palafox brought Mexico back from the brink of elimination Sunday with an 8-6, 6-4, 7-5 triumph over Ralston and Ham Richardson.

It left Mexico trailing two matches to one.

The lithe Palafox was the top player as he and Osuna cut down the American bid for an early championship Sunday.

The U.S. team failed to break service by Palafox until the fourth game of the last set, and his overhead smashes and placements kept Richardson and Ralston in trouble throughout.

The Mexican duo concentrated on Richardson, obviously keeping the play away from Ralston and trying to wear down his 31-year-old teammate.

Richardson dropped his service four times, the final one in the 11th game of the third set. It pushed Mexico out front by 6-5 and set the stage for a sparkling love game behind Palafox's service to close out the match.

All-Star Game Features Big Week For Chicago

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago becomes the nation's sport center this week with Friday night's 32nd annual College All-Star Football Game in Soldier Field highlighting festivities.

The Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League, will provide the collegians with more than formidable opposition in the midsummer gridiron classic.

Long before the kickoff, sports editors and football writers from throughout the nation will convene for a hectic schedule of meetings and gatherings.

Football will not be the only sports activity on the agenda. Three big stakes races are scheduled at Arlington Park, with Darby Dan Farm's highly touted 2-year-old Graustark making his stakes debut in Friday's $50,000-added Arch Ward Stakes' named for the late sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, who originated the All-Star Game.

Tom Rolfe, winner of the Preakness, will be favored in the $100,000-added Chicagoan Saturday.

Then there's the Western Junior Girls Golf Tournament in suburban Lake Forest. And the Chicago White Sox will be home. Vice President Hubert Humphrey will arrive Friday to be the principal speaker at the main meeting of the Football Writers' Association of America the day of the game.

The game itself will find the Browns heavily favored. But the All-Stars are capable of pulling surprises, as they have in the past.

Coach Otto Graham has some excellent talent, especially when it comes to passing, football's most potent weapon on offense. At his disposal are such quarterbacks as Roger Staubach of Navy, John Huarte of Notre Dame and Craig Morton of California.

On the receiving end will be Fred Biletnikoff of Florida State, Jack Snow of Notre Dame and Bob Hayes of Florida A&M to name a few.

In past games, the All-Stars have come up with sufficient punch much of the time. Their trouble comes in protecting against the pro passing attack.

Last year, the All-Stars had the Chicago Bears down 10-7 at the half. But a series of defensive miscues in the second half resulted in a 28-17 Bear triumph.

12 Injured As Autos Crash Near Ashtabula

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—The first collision of opposite-bound vehicles on Interstate 90 since the freeway was opened four years ago occurred Sunday a mile west of the Conneaut Interchange and 12 persons were injured.

A westbound station wagon carrying nine Clevelanders went out of control on wet pavement and crossed the 80-foot median strip and collided with an eastbound car carrying a Buffalo family of three.

The injured were treated at two Ashtabula hospitals. All were in fair condition.

Vern Benson, first base coach of the New York Yankees, hit only .202 during his major league career of 55 games.

The airliner was en route from Cairo to Karachi with 84 passengers and 10 crew members.

Boy, 9, Survives 3 Nights In New York Mountains

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Herschel Babad, a frail 9-year-old boy who survived three nights and four days in dense Catskill Mountain woodlands, says:

"I never want to go into the woods again."

Herschel was recovering today at Monticello Hospital. He took his first solid food Sunday since he wandered off Wednesday from Camp B'Nai Belz at nearby Woodridge.

Doctors said the Brooklyn lad, who weighs 53 pounds, was in remarkably good condition. He had been without water.

More than 800 persons with bloodhounds and helicopters joined the search for Herschel. In the past 11 years in the same area, three other boys became lost. Two were found dead and the third was never found.

Herschel said his only food was two candies he had in his pockets and some leaves he chewed.

Youth Cited For Slaying As In Movie

NEW YORK (AP)—A Puerto Rican who once starred in a movie about New York street gang warfare and death was charged today in the fatal stabbing of a youth in a street fight.

He is Ramon Ortiz, 22, who five years ago earned $1,000 a week for a major role in the Burt Lancaster film, "The Young Savages," but now is an unemployed laborer.

Ironically, the movie was the television feature film Sunday night (on ABC-TV).

Accused with Ortiz of homicide and felonious assault is Orlando Figeroa, 18.

Police said the pair, and six friends, armed themselves with guns and knives Saturday and set out to avenge themselves of a defeat by an Italian group with whom they had fought earlier.

Spotting five persons sitting on a Harlem stoop, Ortiz demanded, "Are you Italian?" according to Detective Sgt. William McHugh.

"No, we're Puerto Rican," was the reply.

But a fight developed.

Walter Cordero, 16, was stabbed to death. John Morales, 25, is in critical condition with gunshot wounds of the chest and stomach and the three others from the stoop were treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Police said Ortiz had two guns and wounded one of his own friends when someone grabbed his wrist during the fight.

Ray Berres, a former catcher, has been a coach with the Chicago White Sox since 1949.

Launching of the 425-foot craft will be by the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.

Roy McMillan, veteran shortstop with the New York Mets, led National League shortstops in double plays four straight years beginning with 1953. He was with the Cincinnati Reds then.

U.S. Aide Faces Viet Court Trial For Slaying Pair

SAIGON (AP)—A South Vietnamese court will try Robert Kimball for the killing of his American boss and a Vietnamese woman, a U.S. government spokesman announced today.

The spokesman said that if convicted, the 37-year-old American adviser to the Vietnamese police would face a maximum penalty of life imprisonment and a minimum of five years in jail. Although South Viet Nam has the death penalty, Kimball will be tried on a charge similar to second degree murder, a police source said.

Last week police said Kimball confessed killing 44 - year - old Jack E. Ryan, chief of the U.S. aid mission's public safety (police) division, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Hai, 26, the wife of a Vietnamese air force captain. They were shot in the yard of Ryan's home on the night of July 23.

Kimball reportedly signed a statement saying he had been dating Mrs. Hai for two years and become jealous of Ryan. Kimball's estranged wife lives in Salt Lake City, Utah, with their 7-year-old son, Kim.

About $75 in cash was taken from the cash register of the Lisbon Hotel at Washington and South Market Sts. Police said the back door apparently was pried open in what they termed "A skillful entry."

Police are connecting the Lisbon Hotel break-in to a similar one at VFW Post 4111 E. Lincoln Way, saying that apparently the same technique was used in entering. An undetermined amount of change from a juke box and a cigarette vending machine are the only items reported stolen.

U.S. Aide Faces Viet Court Trial For Slaying Pair

SAIGON (AP)—A South Vietnamese court will try Robert Kimball for the killing of his American boss and a Vietnamese woman, a U.S. government spokesman announced today.

The spokesman said that if convicted, the 37-year-old American adviser to the Vietnamese police would face a maximum penalty of life imprisonment and a minimum of five years in jail. Although South Viet Nam has the death penalty, Kimball will be tried on a charge similar to second degree murder, a police source said.

Last week police said Kimball confessed killing 44 - year - old Jack E. Ryan, chief of the U.S. aid mission's public safety (police) division, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Hai, 26, the wife of a Vietnamese air force captain. They were shot in the yard of Ryan's home on the night of July 23.

Kimball reportedly signed a statement saying he had been dating Mrs. Hai for two years and become jealous of Ryan. Kimball's estranged wife lives in Salt Lake City, Utah, with their 7-year-old son, Kim.

Actor Reveals Wedding

Cary Grant, Bride Spend Quiet Sunday With Colds

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Honeymooning Cary Grant and his 27-year-old bride are suffering from bad colds, the film star's chauffeur said today.

Grant and his wife spent Sunday alone in their hotel suite.

The staff of Bristol's Royal Hotel told callers Grant had left at 6 a.m. Sunday for the country. They said they weren't sure when he would return.

But all the time, Grant, 61, and his bride, blonde American actress Dyan Cannon, remained in their third-floor suite. A hotel porter acted as a guard outside the suite.

Grant revealed Saturday that they were married quietly in Las Vegas, Nev., last month with only a few close friends attending. The bride's father said the wedding took place July 22.

The actor told an interviewer: "We kept it secret because marriage is a very private affair and I prefer to do things quietly, without fanfare or intrusion."

Grant kept things that way Sunday. He and his bride had no visitors, accepted no messages or phone calls and took their meals in their suite.

The couple went Saturday to a nursing home in nearby Clifton to visit Grant's 87-year-old mother, Mrs. Elsie Leach. She has been a patient there for about a year.

Grant first met Miss Cannon four years ago after he saw her on a television show. He had her agent arrange a meeting because he wanted to cast her for a film.

Grant's first marriage in 1934 to actress Virginia Cherrill ended less than a year later. He married Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton in 1942, and that marriage was dissolved three years later. In 1949 he married actress Betsy Drake. That lasted nine years.

Miss Cannon began her Hollywood career eight years ago with a bit part in a movie. She has appeared since then in a number of movies and television shows. Most recently she had the female lead in the road company of "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Red Chinese Remove Yangtze River Shoals

TOKYO (AP) — A treacherous stretch of the Yangtze River, running 410 miles between Chungking and Ichang, is now open to year-round navigation, the New China News Agency reports.

By Communist account, workers have removed more than 200 dangerous shoals and sunken rocks which made the river forbidding about half the year.

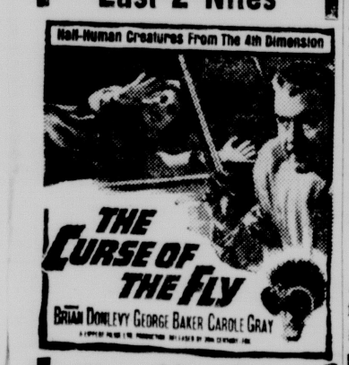

The cost was given as 12.6 million yuan (about 4.84 million).

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday night will average 5-9 degrees below normal. Representative normal high and lows are: Cleveland 82-60, Columbus 86-63, Cincinnati 88-66.

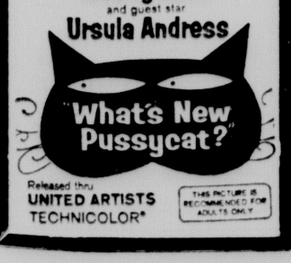

Below normal temperatures Tuesday and Wednesday but turning even cooler Thursday and Friday. Rainfall will average around one half inch with showers and thundershowers about the middle of the week.

Actor Reveals Wedding

Cary Grant, Bride Spend Quiet Sunday With Colds

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Honeymooning Cary Grant and his 27-year-old bride are suffering from bad colds, the film star's chauffeur said today.

Grant and his wife spent Sunday alone in their hotel suite.

The staff of Bristol's Royal Hotel told callers Grant had left at 6 a.m. Sunday for the country. They said they weren't sure when he would return.

But all the time, Grant, 61, and his bride, blonde American actress Dyan Cannon, remained in their third-floor suite. A hotel porter acted as a guard outside the suite.

Grant revealed Saturday that they were married quietly in Las Vegas, Nev., last month with only a few close friends attending. The bride's father said the wedding took place July 22.

The actor told an interviewer: "We kept it secret because marriage is a very private affair and I prefer to do things quietly, without fanfare or intrusion."

Grant kept things that way Sunday. He and his bride had no visitors, accepted no messages or phone calls and took their meals in their suite.

The couple went Saturday to a nursing home in nearby Clifton to visit Grant's 87-year-old mother, Mrs. Elsie Leach. She has been a patient there for about a year.

Grant first met Miss Cannon four years ago after he saw her on a television show. He had her agent arrange a meeting because he wanted to cast her for a film.

Grant's first marriage in 1934 to actress Virginia Cherrill ended less than a year later. He married Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton in 1942, and that marriage was dissolved three years later. In 1949 he married actress Betsy Drake. That lasted nine years.

Miss Cannon began her Hollywood career eight years ago with a bit part in a movie. She has appeared since then in a number of movies and television shows. Most recently she had the female lead in the road company of "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Red Chinese Remove Yangtze River Shoals

TOKYO (AP) — A treacherous stretch of the Yangtze River, running 410 miles between Chungking and Ichang, is now open to year-round navigation, the New China News Agency reports.

By Communist account, workers have removed more than 200 dangerous shoals and sunken rocks which made the river forbidding about half the year.

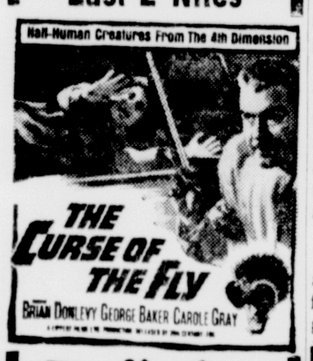

The cost was given as 12.6 million yuan (about 4.84 million).

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday night will average 5-9 degrees below normal. Representative normal high and lows are: Cleveland 82-60, Columbus 86-63, Cincinnati 88-66.

Below normal temperatures Tuesday and Wednesday but turning even cooler Thursday and Friday. Rainfall will average around one half inch with showers and thundershowers about the middle of the week.

OFF THE RECORD

"Honest, Mom, I wasn't fighting, I was just an advisor."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What causes my iron to stick to the clothing as I press it?

A. — Too much starch, clothes not properly rinsed, or dirt on the bottom of your iron will cause this. If it's the bottom of your iron that's at fault, rub with a damp cloth when cool. Polish with a dry cloth. For stubborn cases, use silver polish, or run the iron over a little table salt spread on waxed paper. In the case of rayons and other synthetic fabrics, too hot an iron will cause sticking.

Q. — How can I prevent homemade jams from crystallizing?

A. — Add a tablespoon of glycerin to each pint of jam. This makes your jam more transparent, and reduces the amount of sugar needed.

Q. — How can I make the job of cutting foam rubber easier?

A. — The job of cutting foam rubber with a scissors or knife is usually a very difficult process. However, you can cope with this by pressing the foam rubber down hard with a flat board and cutting while it is thus tightly compressed.

Q. — What is the best way to keep the locks on my doors in good working order?

A. — Best for this are shots of graphite powder, obtainable at any hardware store — at least once a year. Lead pencil-point shavings can be used as a lubricant, too.

Q. — What is a good way to bind the cut edges of carpets and prevent their fraying?

A. — With rubber cement. First trim the nap from about ⅛ inch of the edge of the carpet, then coat the trimmed edge and the underside for ½ inch or so with ordinary rubber cement —at least two applications.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BEAVER

QUESTION: How and why do beavers build dams?

ANSWER: An obliging beaver is answering the how part of the question in the upper left. You can see his large, curved and extremely sharp cutting incisor teeth, two above, two below. When these come together, driven by powerful jaw muscles, they can chop a chunk right out of the wood of a tree. A beaver will work around the tree, cutting out chunks until it comes crashing down (2). Then he will bite off the branches and cut the trunk into lenths easy to manage. To make a dam, the beavers drag such logs to a stream, lay them in place and pile on stones and mud, carring the mud by holding it to their chests with their front paws.

In (3) we give an answer to the why part of the question. Beavers have no physical way of protecting themselves from predators; but they have worked out a remarkably effective method of protection by living close to or in the water. Alongside a pond made by a dam, beavers will build a lodge of sticks and mud with an air hole in the top, cleverly concealed. Holes in the bottom lead into the water. The beaver can swim up through a tunnel to the lodge and be safe. In the winter, a supply of young wood is stored in the pond; the beavers live off the bark and twigs.

FOR YOU TO DO: The beaver knows what he wants—security and food, and he works extremely hard to get it. Go for what you want in the same way—work like a beaver!
